

$50,000 Worth of Liquor On Palatial Yacht Seized MAYOR AND LEGION LEADERS CLASH Plan For Prolonged Textile Strike

505 CASES OF LIQUOR HELD

Customs Officials Raid Yacht
Tied Up at Miami,
Florida

Edwin S. Shewan, Brother of Owner, Wires Protest to
Atty. Gen. Daugherty

Armed Dry Agents to Wage War Against Rum Runners
on Niagara River

MIAMI, Fla., March 18.—Customs officials today seized 505 cases of fine wines and liquors aboard the Patricia, a palatial yacht tied up here. The liquor was estimated by officials to be worth $50,000.

The yacht, it was later ascertained, is owned by James Shewan, and when the officers boarded the yacht Edwin
S. Shewan, brother of the owner, rushed to a telephone office and wired Atty.
General Daugherty to order the release of the cargo.

Shewan claims the liquor is the same seized at San Francisco a year ago by prohibition officials but which was returned to him as liquor purchased before the federal prohibition amendment became effective.

War on Rum Runners
BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18.—Prohibition enforcement agents cruising in swift motor boats and armed with rifles will soon wage war against rum runners on the Niagara river from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario. Organization of the force began today with the arrival of John P. Parsons, chief of the prohibition forces for New York.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Docket Crowded Again With Large Number of Cases
Involving Liquor

The police court docket was crowded again today with liquor violation cases, 11 being listed for trial. Added to this liquor list were nine cases of drunkenness and several other cases of minor importance. The liquor cases were drawn out as a rule, and were painstakingly tried but still fines were imposed in nearly every case.

Lawrence Duck Co. May Move to South

LAWRENCE, March 18.—The Lawrence Duck Co., employing about 500 may be moved to the south, it was learned today. Treasurer William L. Barrell admitted that such a thing was being considered and said that cotton duck could not be made profitably in this state where there are but 48 working hours weekly in competition with the 60-hour week in the south.

STRIKE LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

Emergency Board of Textile Workers Hold Secret Session in Boston

Discuss Finances Necessary
For "Prolonged Continuation of Textile Strike"

BOSTON, March 18.—The emergency board of the United Textile Workers of America met here today to consider the New England textile situation.
President Thomas F. McMahon and Organizer John Powers, came from Rhode Island strike areas for the conference.
Vice President James Starr, who is directing the strike in New Hampshire, and Mrs. Sara A. Conboy, secretary-treasurer of the United Textile Workers, attended the conference.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing finances necessary for a "prolonged continuation of the textile strike." President McMahon said, its sessions were secret. A proposal has been made by the Rhode Island board of conciliation and mediation that the strikers consider accepting some degree of wage reduction in view of the fact that passage of the 48 hour law in that state is virtually assured, Mr. McMahon said. The proposal was under consideration he indicated but he added that it was doubtful if any formal statement on the matter would be made.
Immediately following the meeting,
Vice President Starr arranged to confer with several Bostonians who have offered to aid in the raising of funds for relief of the New Hampshire strikers.

ITALY DEMANDS RELEASE OF SHIP

New Note Sent to Greece
Calling for Release of Steamship Abbazia

Also Demands Complete Satisfaction for Other Recent Incidents

ROME, March 18.—(By the Associated Press).—Italy has sent a new note to Greece demanding release of the steamship Abbazia and complete satisfaction for other recent incidents.

French Steamer Released PARIS, March 18. (By the Associated Press).—The Greek authorities have released the French merchant steamer
St. Pierre, from Havre for Mersina, laden with automobiles and a general cargo, which was captured by the Greek cruiser Ajax Thursday.

The Greek foreign minister has informed the French minister at Athens that the minister of marine in the new Greek cabinet has given "formal instructions" to Greek warships to abstain from exercising the right to visit steamers flying the French flag.

BLACK EYES $250 EACH

San Francisco Judge Announces Increase in Cost
of Wife Beating

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—
The cost of wife beating is going to be higher in San Francisco from now on, according to Superior Judge Thomas P. Graham. After fining a man $500 yesterday for applying a lighted match to his wife's arm, he announced that black eyes hereafter would cost $250 each instead of $150, as heretofore, and that kicks would be raised from $150 each to $250 and blows from $50 to $100.

TO PROTECT THE COMMON PEOPLE

New Corporation to Be Known as "The Common People, Inc."

Petition for Incorporation
Filed With Secretary of State

BOSTON, March 18.—A petition for the incorporation of an organization to be known as "The Common People, Inc.," whose purpose is to "provide the adjunct to public progress that political parties stifle or lack at present," has been filed with the secretary of state, it became known today. Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation, has approved the petition.

The founder of the organization is Alexander Paul Connor of Springfield, and its incorporators are residents of western Massachusetts.

Battle of Words Between the Mayor and Commander Garrity Over O'Dowd Appointment

Mayor Accuses Legion Men of Playing Politics and Latter Come Back With Hard Counter—Garrity Tells Mayor He Has Not Performed as a Veteran and Cites Suspension of 13 Firemen—
Historian Walsh Invites Mayor to Appear Before
Lowell Post But His Honor Says He Will Not
Continue the Controversy

Counter accusations of playing politics and demands for apologies were hurled across the mayor's office at city hall this noon during a battle of words between Mayor George H.
Brown and Commander Stephen C.
Garrity of the local American Legion post, that more than once seemed to arrive perilously near the breaking point.
Commander Garrity was backed up in his accusations and arguments by John J. Walsh, historian of Lowell post and a member of the executive committee.
The two veterans called upon the mayor, following the delivery to him of a letter from the executive committee of Lowell post, protesting against the appointment of any but veterans to the staff of the Memorial auditorium, either temporarily or permanently. Particular stress was placed upon the alleged appointment by the mayor of Paul O'Dowd, as a clerk of records, who is not a veteran.
Commander Garrity inquired apparently as to the report that a local organization had been promised a date in the auditorium prior to the dedicatory exercises. This the mayor denied, saying that the date in question was contingent upon whether or not the building was accepted by the city at that particular time.
Speaking of the employment of Mr. O'Dowd, Commander Garrity asked if he is any more qualified for the position than any of 7700 Lowell veterans.
The mayor replied that Mr. O'Dowd was his choice and he would recommend his permanent employment to the board of trustees when selected.
"He is a friend of mine and also is well fitted to fill the office," said the mayor, and added, "you can't change me on that matter if you argue it all day."
"You told me a while ago," said Commander Garrity, "that you owed a political debt to Mr. O'Dowd, that you had used his automobile and was obligated to him."
"Does that have any effect upon his qualifications for the position?" asked the mayor.
"It certainly does," said the legion

LIQUOR PERMITS OF 100 DRUGGISTS CANCELLED

CHICAGO, March 18.—Liquor permits of 100 Chicago druggists were declared forfeited today by Charles A.
Gregory, prohibition director, as a result of reported sale of liquor on fraudulent prescriptions.
The prohibition director said that a check-up showed that thousands of liquor prescriptions used in Chicago were forged and that in many cases the druggists not only manufactured their whiskey but also manufactured the prescriptions.

MEETING OF SCHOOL HEADS HERE FRIDAY

A meeting of school superintendents of cities and towns in the Merrimack Valley will be held in this city next Friday, according to plans discussed this morning in the office of Superintendent Hugh J. Molloy. Visits will be made at the Normal school and new high school and in the afternoon there will be an address by Robert O. Small of the state department of education.

MRS. OBENCHAIN'S FATE IN HANDS OF JURY

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—The case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was given to the jury at noon yesterday.
At a late hour last night the jury had not reached a verdict.

SUBSTANTIAL CUTS IN CITY BUDGET

Substantial cuts in the city budget estimated by the isolation hospital, interest payments and in other instances are forecasted as in the minds of the city council when they meet to clean up the budget next Monday night.
It is said on good authority that interest payments will be cut substantially $50,000 and also it is rumored that no salary increases for municipal clerks will be allowed in the final analysis, despite the fact that some recommendations have been made for increases in one or two departments.
It is fairly certain that the council will complete its work on the budget next Monday evening.

PRUDENTIAL CO.
SELLS BANK HOLDINGS
NEWARK, N. J., March 18.—Sale by the Prudential Insurance Co. of America of all of its stockholdings in the Fidelity Union Trust Co. and the Morchants & Manufacturers' National bank was announced here today. The purchase was Julius S. Rippel of J. S. Rip-pel & Co., bankers and brokers, and the amount involved was $2,630,000.
The New York state legislative committee on housing investigation Forrest F. Dryden, president of the insurance company, was criticized by Samuel Undermyer, committee counsel, because of the close financial relations between his institution and banks in which it was a stockholder.

APPOINTED BISHOP

bishop of Narnia, as bishop of the

VISCOUNT PEEL NAMED Appointed Secretary of State For India to Succeed Edwin S. Montague

LONDON, March 18.—(By the Associated Press).—Viscount Peel, former under secretary of the war and air ministry, and chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in the present ministry, has been appointed secretary of state for India, succeeding Edwin S. Montague, who resigned last week.

Edwin S. Montague resigned as secretary for India, March 9, his resignation forced as a result of permission he had given without consultation with the other members of the cabinet, it was charged, for publication of the telegram from the government of India setting forth the position of the Indian Muslims toward the near east problem.

Viscount Peel is a member of the house of lords, and his appointment is in line with the forecast that Prime Minister Lloyd George was likely to replace Mr. Montague by a peer so that another bye-election might be avoided.

Viscount Peel is a unionist. Born in 1867, he was educated at Harrow and Oxford and was called to the bar in 1893. He was war correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph during the Greco-Turkish war in 1897. Before succeeding to the viscountcy in 1912, he served several years as member of parliament for Manchester and Taunton.

SLIGHT DROP IN MORTALITY RATE

The city mortality rate dropped slightly this week, when one less death was reported than last week.
Deaths this week numbered 15, against 16 last week and 17 during the week previous.
Deaths under five years were six and there were four deaths under one year.
Among infectious diseases, reported measles led with 10, out of a total of

Youth Sentenced For Manslaughter

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Ollie Cowell, 13 years old, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter by a jury here yesterday and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for the death of James Gant, 13, who died as the result of a knife wound received in a fight with Cowell over a basketball game last February.

Fell Asleep While Smoking, Dies of Burns

BOSTON, March 18.—Harry Haight, 40 years old, of Newark, N. J., died at the City hospital early today as a result of burns received in a room at a hotel here. Hotel attendants found him unconscious in a reclining chair with his clothing and the upholstery of the chair on fire. Police believe that Haight fell asleep while smoking. He was a supervisor for the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

HELD ST. PATRICK'S DAY ENTERTAINMENT

The Father Mathew Total Abstinence society of North Billerica conducted its annual St. Patrick's day entertainment last evening and the affair was pronounced by many the best of its kind conducted in a long time. The entertainment, which was followed by general dancing, was held in Thomas Tabot Memorial hall and was largely attended, a large number of guests being in attendance from this city.

Including several on residents of the town.

J. Frank Mullen was the interlocutor and the soloists were: Edward Donohue, Martin Maguire, Miss Doris Conley, John Doyle, James Walker, James H. Gannon, Edward Barton, William Hinkley and P. Boyle. Miss Blanche A. Cheney, of the department of history and civics is to begin a course of lectures in Haverhill next Wednesday on "Project Methods of Teaching Citizenship." The lecture is to be given under the auspices of the university extension.

Heber St. Cuthbert, for three years connected with the department of practical science, has resigned to enter business.

ANNUAL DEBATE OF WOMEN'S COLLEGES

BOSTON, March 18.—The annual women's intercollegiate debate with Wellesley, Vassar, Smith, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe and Barnard as the participants, will take place tonight. The subject will be "Resolved, that the United States should grant immediate independence to the Philippines." The teams will oppose each other at the several colleges, as follows, the affirmative in each case being debated at home:

At Cambridge, Radcliffe and Smith; at Wellesley, Wellesley and Radcliffe; at South Hadley, Mount Holyoke and Wellesley; at New York, Barnard and Vassar; at Poughkeepsie, Vassar and Mount Holyoke; at Northampton, Smith and Barnard.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Man Carrying Bomb Dies in Imperial Palace Grounds at Tokio

TOKIO, Mar. 17.—(By the Associated Press) A man dressed as a coolie gained entrance to the Imperial palace grounds at noon today (Friday) and threw a bomb to the ground, the explosion killing him. On his clothing was found a document criticizing the government and declaring the writer's intention to commit suicide. He was identified as a miner, recently arrived from Manchuria.

The man gained entrance to the grounds by threatening the guards at the double bridge leading to the palace shouting: "It is dangerous to approach me." At the main gate other guards made to stop him, whereupon he threw the missile at his feet.

IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The improvement association of ward 8, precinct 3, held another interesting meeting at the Manhattan club on Thursday night and discussed plans to bring about improvements in that district. The members are particularly anxious to have Manchester street extended to the Boston road, feeling that the change would be of great benefit not only to those in the neighborhood but the public in general.

IN CHELMSFORD CENTRE

St. Patrick's Day Observance by Catholic Club—Girl Scouts Meet

There was a large attendance at the entertainment and dance held last evening in the Chelmsford Centre town hall by the members of the Chelmsford Catholic club in observance of St. Patrick's day. The decorations were beautiful, consisting of national colors and flags of the Irish Free State, while the background of the stage was taken up with a large picture of St. Patrick, draped with green and American colors.

In the early part of the evening the following numbers, which proved very entertaining, were given: Highland Fling, Elizabeth Perry; sketch, Paul and Mary Donohue; specialty dance, Baby Ellen Sullivan; minuet, Peggy Regan and John Clark; step-along dance, Doris Clark; dance, V. Amor, Marion and Anna Barrett; novelty dance, Doris Sholey; Irish jig, Ednah and Harold Lally; "Dawn On the Irish Coast," by John Locke; reading, Miss Catherine Green; song, "That's How I Believe in You," Catherine Mullin. The entertainment program was in charge of Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland and the dancing numbers were under the direction of Miss Doris Conley, of Lowell, assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. V. Conley.

At the close of the entertainment general dancing was started and continued till a reasonable hour. During intermission refreshments were served in the lower hall.

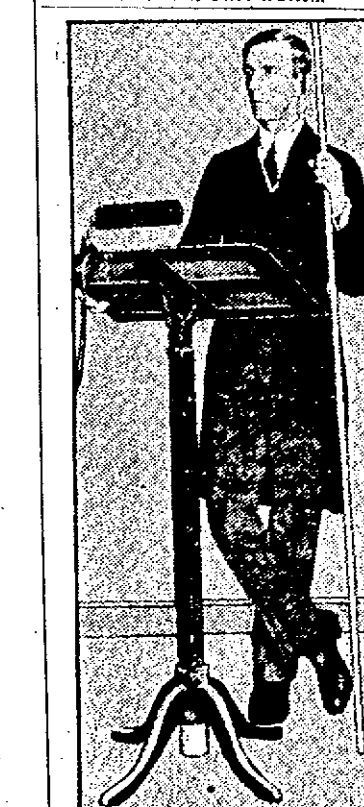

The committee of arrangements included Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland, Mrs. R. C. Hazeltine, Miss Catherine Green, assisted by Mrs. Edward Kemp, Mrs. Ernest DeKalb, Mrs. Henry L. Cole, Mrs. F. J. Green, Mrs. Francis DeKalb, Miss Charlotte Kemp. The refreshment committee was made up as follows: Mrs. J. B. Noel, chairman, Mrs. William Gaudette, Mrs. Joseph Kemp, Mrs. Ernest DeKalb, McKinley Blood acted as floor director, assisted by Stillman Kneeland.

Girl Scouts Meet

First class scout badges were conferred upon Scouts Thelma Shattuck and Marjorie B. Scoboria at a meeting of the Chelmsford Girl Scouts held yesterday afternoon in the Centre village. In the course of the meeting merit badges were awarded to Scouts Barbara A. Parkhurst, Julia Warren and Thelma Shattuck. A report of the organization was given, showing the excellent work, which the scouts are doing. New members were admitted into the troop and Scout Florence Ellis was elected second lieutenant.

Successful Food Sale

The women of the Central Congregational church conducted a successful food sale on the piazza at the home of Mrs. A. L. Dunham yesterday afternoon. This was an ideal place for such an event, as the piazza is enclosed with glass and heated. The amount realized through the sale was very substantial and the following members of the committee, who were in charge of the sale, were warmly congratulated for the success achieved: Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Allen Gould, Mrs. A. C. Forham, Mrs. Clarence Stevens and Mrs. Paul Dutton.

DRY AGENT DROPPED

McGray, Who Swore Out Affidavit in Quincy House Raid, Suspended

BOSTON, March 18.—Prohibition Agent William H. McGray of Somerville, who swore out the affidavit which enabled former dry chief Harold D. Wilson to secure the warrant used in the Quincy House raid on Dec. 20 last, has been indefinitely suspended by order of the Boston Police Commissioner. State prohibition Director Potter said last night, James E. Roberts, who succeeded Wilson, said he did not know why McGray had been suspended but that it was not for anything he had done since Roberts took office. McGray was said to be the most active agent at the raid on a room at the Quincy House when Governor Cox and Director Potter were attending a banquet in another part of the hotel.

R. I. SENATE DELAYS 48-HOUR BILL

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 18.—Prospects of immediate passage of a 48-hour law by the Rhode Island legislature were shattered yesterday when the Lavender bill passed by the house Wednesday was referred to the judiciary committee of the senate. Proponents of the bill urged that the measure be placed on the calendar for immediate action, but the senate, by a vote of 28 to 5, sent it to committee. Three bills involving hours of labor are now before the senate judiciary committee. In addition to the Lavender bill, providing for a 48-hour working week for women and minors, but permitting a 58-hour maximum for those classes of workers in "seasonal occupations," there is a senate measure, the so-called Noel bill, very similar in terms. The third is the Barry bill which provides for a general 48-hour week.

While strike leaders yesterday only prophesied defeat of the Lavender bill in the senate, the state board of mediation was relying on the prospect of 48-hour legislation to bring about a settlement of the textile strike. Leaders of the Amalgamated Textile Workers, the organization of textile operatives in the Pawtucket valley, and of the United Textile Workers, whose stronghold is in the Blackstone valley, were asked by representatives of the board whether they should be willing to make concessions on the wages issue, in the event that the legislature passed a 48-hour law.

NO RECONCILIATION, SAYS PRIMA DONNA

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—Madame Margaret Matzenauer, prima donna, today told the Associated Press that she gave no credence to a statement made in Del Monte, Cal., by her chauffeur husband, Floyd Glatzsch, that he had no part in the recent publicity incident to their marital affairs.

"Surely the newspapers wouldn't make me the laughing stock of the world," she said.

Commenting on a despatch from San Francisco, that Glatzsch's mother and stepfather had sided with the prima donna, the madame said:

"Surely they sided with me. They always did. Only about four months ago his mother visited me in my New York apartment, and tried to bring about a reconciliation. But there will be no reconciliation, you can put that down."

C. M. A. C. BASEBALL TEAM MANAGER

At a meeting of the members of the C.M.A.C. baseball team, which was held in the hotel room in Pawtucket street last evening, William Marquette was unanimously chosen manager of the team for the coming season. Plans for the season were outlined and it was announced that within a short time or as soon as the ground is in condition, practices will be held on the Lowell Textile school campus. The manager of the team issues an appeal to all baseball players in Notre Dame de Lourdes, St. Louis and St. Joseph's parishes to give their names and the names of their fathers to the manager of the team. The best players will be picked out as regulars.

A meeting of the literary club of the association will be held in the reading room of the club building in Pawtucket street Monday night and it is expected that all members will be present for matters of great importance will be brought up for consideration. The club was formed only recently, but great enthusiasm prevails among its members and already plans are under way for a public lecture, which will be held soon after Easter.

R. I. STATE BOARD TO MEET MONDAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 18.—The state board of mediation and conciliation, which was scheduled to meet at noon today to consider its third proposal for settlement of the Rhode Island textile strike, will not meet until Monday. It was announced at the state house this morning.

The proposal which the board is submitting to mill owners and strike leaders, is a compromise based on the passage by the lower branch of the legislature of the Lavender bill, providing for a 48-hour week for women and minors, but permitting a 58-hour maximum for those classes of workers in "seasonal occupations," there is a senate measure, the so-called Noel bill, very similar in terms. The third is the Barry bill which provides for a general 48-hour week.

SUITS BROUGHT BY PONZI TRUSTEES DISMISSED

BOSTON, March 18.—Federal Judge George W. Anderson dismissed in United States equity court today, six suits brought by the trustees of Charles Ponzi, the postal coupon financier, to recover from Ponzi investors the amount of the money they invested with him and withdrew without profit.

Judge Anderson found that the money obtained from the Ponzi investors were treated as a trust fund, that they were deposited in a trust company here, and were paid back by check on the bank and never became the property of Ponzi.

The judge adjudicated a bankrupt October 25, 1920," said Judge Anderson's decision. "It follows that the year allowed under the bankruptcy act for proving of claims expired October 25, 1921. It is therefore obvious that if the defendants, and others in this suit, are held to pay to the plaintiffs the amounts they invested, it is in order to increase the dividends of those who had not the luck or foresight to withdraw before the crash came. Obviously such a result is most unjust."

MURDER OF BRUNEN STILL A MYSTERY

RIVERSIDE, N. J., March 18.—Authorities investigating the death of John T. Brunen, circus proprietor, shot and killed in his home a week ago yesterday, today were apparently as far from a solution of the slaying as when they began their investigation.

The man remains to be questioned, County Detective Ellis Parker said today. He is Paul Purcell, a concessionaire, who was with Brunen's shows last season. Purcell has been found at Paterson, N. J. Parker stated, and has been requested to go to Mount Holly for questioning by Prosecutor Kelsey. According to Parker, Purcell was ordered from the circus lot in mid-season, following a quarrel with Brunen.

Two men, George L. Werner, circus chef, and Joseph R. "Doc" Ward, Baltimore, yesterday were exonerated by the authorities from any connection in the case. Last night, Detective Kelsey spent some time questioning a man in the jail at Norristown, Pa., who said he knew Brunen intimately, but the detective said he was unable to learn anything that had not been divulged.

MRS. WILLS ADMITS SHOOTING HUSBAND

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 18.—Lewis Wills, superintendent of the Lewis Construction Company, was shot in his bed today and died at the city hospital. His wife, who was arrested, admitted firing the fatal shot, according to the police, who said a quarrel had followed a round of the cafes made by the couple last night.

TRACK AND FIELD SPORTS FOR WOMEN

BOSTON, March 18.—Track and field sports for women in this country will be recognized and supervised by the Amateur Athletic Union within a year or two, William C. Prout, president of the A.A.U., said today. Events for women on track and field will undoubtedly be included in the 1928 Olympic games, he added.

Officials of the A.A.U. were approached recently in the interests of women in sports by directors of the women's track committee headed by Harriette Woodman New Haven, Conn., and plans for making the latter a fully subsidiary to the A.A.U. are now under consideration. President Prout said there was little doubt that the action would be taken, and that the committee would conduct track and field competitions in all summer events for women are now conducted.

Candidate For Senate

SPRINGFIELD, March 18.—A. Paul Connor, of this city, leading spirit and organizer of the Common People, Inc., is a lawyer and civil engineer. Several months ago he brought about a hearing before a legislative committee on conditions that he alleged existed in the Hampden county training school. Though Mr. Connor's charges were not in the main sustained by the committee some changes have since been made in the methods of management as the result of the committee's recommendations. He has come into some prominence through his thus far unsuccessful efforts to obtain the release from the county school of a Springfield boy, Michael Ring, who, he asserted, has been mistreated and deprived of his rights. He recently has taken the case to Governor Cox and by him was referred to District Attorney C. H. Wright.

Mr. Connor this week announced his candidacy for the state senate.

BOMB HURLED IN STREET

Terrorists Resume Activities in Belfast—Two Men Shot—Wounded Girl Dies

BELFAST, March 18.—(By the Associated Press) Terrorists who had remained under cover all of St. Patrick's Day, resumed their activities today. Shortly after the curfew hour a news vendor proceeding homeward on his bicycle was shot through the breast, and a man was shot and killed in Newtonards road.

A bomb was thrown in Thompson street, the useless wounding several persons. A girl who was wounded by the bomb died after being taken to the hospital.

Newtonards road was in turmoil, until after the breakfast hour.

Two men dashed into Thompson street in the Shin Feln district and threw a bomb through an upstairs window of a small dwelling where an elderly woman, Rose McGroovy, and her niece, Mary Mullan, were sleeping. Pedestrians who forced an entrance found Mrs. McGroovy seriously wounded and her niece mortally hurt. One of the young woman's legs having been blown nearly off. The two women were taken to a hospital where Miss Mullan died shortly afterward.

Early this morning the body of a man was found in Claremont lane with a bullet through the head.

BUCKET SHOP CASES GO TO GRAND JURY

NEW YORK, March 18.—Charges against officials of the American Cotton Exchange, made during the John Doe investigation of bucket shops by the district attorney's office will be presented to the grand jury, District Attorney Barton announced today after a telephone conference with chief city magistrate McAdoo, who heard the original complaints.

MILLIONAIRE DODGE MUST GO TO JAIL

DETROIT, March 18.—John D. Dodge, millionaire, under sentence of five days imprisonment for violating the speed laws, shovelled coal today in the house of correction.

Dodge, who possesses a million and a half in his own right, was assigned real work with others who are serving short-term sentences. He took the manual work with good grace.

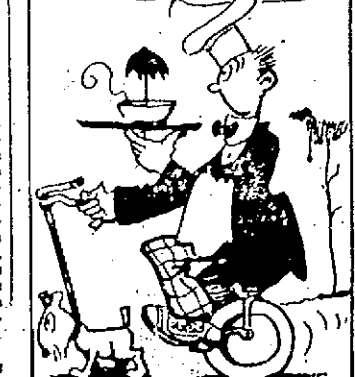

Meanwhile his attorneys were planning further steps to gain the release. Dodge's duties consist of shovelling coal into a hand cart at the supply pile and wheeling the cart to the furnace room, where it dumps it within reach of the stokers. He expressed himself as satisfied with the assignment, saying it would keep him "outside" the greater part of the day.

RADIO AMATEUR HELPS THE UNITED STATES

BY FRANK GEORGE
(Checked and Approved by Radio Section, U. S. Bureau of Standards)

In no other country in the world is the amateur radio operator as free from restraint as in the United States. The only restrictions placed on his activities are with regard to wave lengths and licensing. This is to prevent confusion in the air lanes.

The amateur operator is not necessarily a small boy. Many amateurs are mature men and women who possess most efficient radio stations. The term "amateur" operator as distinguished from "commercial" operator is used simply to designate operators who are in radio merely for love of the art.

The radio "novice" is one who has only a receiving set for the purpose of "listening in." Of amateurs there are more than 12,000; of novices, 600,000.

ARMY BANKS ON NEW BALLOON TO CLEAR DIRIGIBLES' NAME

By N.H.A. Service

PAYTON, O., March 17.—Army experts hope that a new army balloon, not yet christened, will not only escape the fate of the Roma but will prove the practical value of the dirigible balloon, given a great setback by the Roma disaster.

The new balloon was built at Akron, O., for the War Department. It was brought to McCook, Ill., here to be put through its paces. On a short trip recently the ship lived up to all expectations.

This new craft has many new features not found in any other air craft in the United States.

Clear-Shaped Bag

The shikun bag is cigar-shaped and has a gas capacity of 105,000 cubic feet. It is 170 feet long and 40 feet in diameter.

Attached to the envelope is an entirely enclosed cabin, equipped with windows. In it is the power plant, consisting of two aero-marine engines, connected with the propellers by means of gears.

This innovation makes it possible to drive the big ship forward or backward.

In the cabin are sleeping quarters for the crew and a kitchenette from which a lunch or a regular meal may be served.

Within the cabin also are storage tanks for fuel and oil of sufficient capacity to carry the ship a distance of 6000 miles.

HIRED CRIPPLES TO BEG FOR HIM

NEW YORK, March 17.—Two crippled women, a little boy and an armless man appeared in a Brooklyn court yesterday as witnesses against John Stefan who admitted that he employed the four to beg for him.

Their wages, he said were $3 a day, board and liquor "when they wanted it." They agreed to give him all the money which trickled into their tin cups.

Stefan, who is six feet tall and a heavyweight, had distributed his beggars at advantageous points in the shopping districts, and was encouraging them to greater activity when a policeman sent them all to the station. A search of Stefan's pockets netted two bankbooks, showing recent deposits of $210 besides $63 in pennies, nickels and dimes, and $10 in bills. All were charged with vagrancy and sent to the workhouse pending further investigation.

EVERETT MAYOR TO CLOSE DANCE HALLS

BOSTON, March 18.—Unless the conditions that cause certain dance halls in Everett to be public nuisances are once remedied, Mayor Harrison of that city will close them, according to a statement he made last night. The decision of the mayor followed a report from the Everett board of censors.

"I hereby serve notice that any valid complaint received at the mayor's office of improper actions and/or careless indifference on the part of persons congregated in places of amusement to the rules of propriety means the immediate revocation of a license," said Mayor Harrison.

"I am a veteran," stated the mayor, "100 per cent, a veteran and I tell you, gentlemen, right here and now, the veterans have been well treated since I came into office. You have no right to come here and criticize until you have a grievance."

"We have a grievance, Mr. Mayor," answered Commander Garrity, "and if you are a veteran you haven't performed as one. The first thing you did after getting into office was to bring suffering and discomfort to 12 veterans who were on the fire department."

"That is not so," replied the mayor, "the state laws governed me in that case."

"You are playing politics, Mr. Garrity, in this matter," continued the mayor and are sacrificing other service men in Lowell to suit your own selfish ends."

"I won't stand for that," snapped Commander Garrity. "You are a politician, Lowell's political mayor. We have tried to get satisfaction from you in a number of things, but without result."

Reverting to the setting of a date at the auditorium for some organization prior to dedication, Mr. Walsh said that when the chairman of the commission spoke before the city council, he stated at that time that it would be impossible to have the building ready to turn over to the city before May 30.

"And yet," said Mr. Walsh, "you have definite proof that a local organization has either the date of May 14 or 21 and actually is making reservations for tickets."

"If something has transpired since the commission chairman's talk before the council, so that the date of opening has been changed," said Mr. Walsh, "then we have not been given the courtesy of being told, but, evidently, some other organization has been advised of it."

MRS. BURKETT LOSES

No Injustice Done Says Indiana Governor

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18.—Though imprisoned for attempting to defraud Theodore Roosevelt's estate out of $68,300 Mrs. Emma Burkett, of Millville, Ind., has reached the ears of two governors in protesting her innocence, but her plea will be in vain, Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana announced yesterday.

Recently Gov. McCray said he received a letter signed "Guy Covei" who said he forged the note and asked "in the name of justice" that he be set free. Mrs. Burkett's freedom. The governor said he referred it to Gov. Miller of New York and had been informed that Mrs. Burkett had embezzled the money and had sent it to the Indiana governor.

Gov. McCray said he had written Gov. Miller expressing the belief that no injustice was being done Mrs. Burkett.

"I do not believe any injustice is being done her," he said, referring to her imprisonment under a charge of having forged Mr. Roosevelt's name to a note which was presented for collection after his death. Later she was convicted and imprisoned in New York.

BOXING

With Billy Murphy's string of victories still unbroken there is considerable discussion among local fans over a desire to see him meet boys like Mike Costello, Willie Corbett, Paddy Owens or Barney Snyder.

In a post mortem discussion of Murphy's rapid rise to fame in pugilistic circles after he had added Johnny Lucas to his list the other night, Jack Williams, manager of Willie Corbett, Jack Wagner, manager of Mike Costello, and several others, talked of the Acre boys' chances against the above mentioned boys.

Wagner declared he was confident Costello could beat him. Williams averred that a Murphy-Corbett or Murphy-Owens match would be a wonderful attraction and an equally wonderful bout. He felt that either one of the pair could halt the victorious march of the local boy.

Supporters of Murphy, however, advanced the argument that he has yet to be seen at his best, that he fights hardest when the odds are greatest. In the end, one very enthusiastic booster emphatically declared his belief in Murphy's ability to "take" any one of the quartet mentioned.

It is quite true that Murphy has yet to be pushed. His height and reach for one of 125 pounds are unusual and give him an advantage over most boys of his pounds. To date he has not encountered anyone of similar proportions, and consequently it is next to impossible to "size" out what would happen if he met one built along the same lines. In his brief career he has met several hard punchers but his skillful sidestepping and dodging have so far enabled him to at all times keep out of danger. He has met Al Diamond twice and these bouts were without doubt his best to date. That is they were more evenly contested than any he has had since. He would easily over Benny Nelson, Joe Walsh and Johnny Luciani.

Johnny Downes of South Boston, no relation to the Cleveland boy of the same name, is scheduled to come here next week to meet Louis Hamlin, "the fighting Frenchman" from Nashua. Downes has not appeared here since he won over Phinney Boyle in an open air show a couple of years ago.

Phinney Boyle is continuing training and he plans to challenge the winner of the Downes-Hamlin number.

RED SOX BLANKED BY PIRATES TO DECIDE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TITLE

Renovated Boston Team Made Poor Showing Against Maranville et al.

Braves and Senators Open Series at Tampa, Fla.—Landis "Up in Air"

BOSTON, March 18.—The renovated Red Sox were tried out at Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday, and found wanting. The Pirates picked holes in them so numerous that they were finally obliged to be joking around for material to mend them. The score of the first of their games was 12 to 0, with Pittsburgh on the 12 end.

The Pirates hit so hard and their pitchers tossed so well that there was little opportunity for other observation, sports writers said in the words sent home. Quinn and Thorpe divided the Boston pitching burden, with the latter very erratic. The big result of yesterday at Hot Springs, the Sox agreed was the reduction of the Boston pitching to one, Maudie Rice, Alvin Russell and Mike Menosky having finally been signed.

Landis Enjoys Flight

The visit of Judge Landis to the Braves camp at St. Petersburg, and his half hour flight with President George Washington Grant in seaplane, were the most exciting events at the Braves' training camp yesterday.

The big chief of baseball was to accompany them to Tampa today for the game with the Senators. Manager Mitchell planned to take 18 players with him, to lineup at the start probably as follows:

Poses, cf; Kopf, or; Darlane, ss; Southworth, rf; Gracie, or; Nicholson, lf; Boeckel, 2b; Holke, 1b; Ford, 3b; O'Neill and Gibson, c; Miller, p.

Senators vs. Braves

WASHINGTON, March 18.—What is expected to be the regular lineup for the 1922 season will be presented by Washington today in the opening game of the series with the Braves at Tampa. The Peckinpaugh at shortstop will play his first game in a Washington uniform. Zachary will go part way in the box for Washington. Former Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, was due to arrive at Tampa early today and was expected to open the game by pitching the first ball to the batter.

"Ivory Hunter" on Mission

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Kelly, ivory hunter in chief for the Yankee baseball team, is today journeying across Dixie on a mysterious mission. Joe left the American League's camp at New Orleans last night under sealed orders and New York fans were wondering today just what it was all about. Almost anything was expected and there were some fans who thought the Yankee was about to take over Mike Menosky, the Boston Red Sox fly chaser, who would be assigned to the yawning chasm in Yankee right field, made vacant by Jim McKee's trip off the reservation last fall, and Judge Landis' action in consequence thereof.

The Yankees were ready this morning for their clash with the St. Louis Cardinals in the prospect of a grand bombardment which Ruth and Hornsby get into action. Jones and O'Doul were groomed for the pitching job.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who followed the train yesterday at Fort Worth, is slated to start the game for the Reds Sunday.

Flack Quits Cubs

CHICAGO, March 18.—Max Flack, outfielder of the Chicago Nationals, has left the club and gone to his home in St. Louis, according to word received here today from the Cubs' training camp at Catalina Island, Cal. He is the second member of the club to leave in the past few days, Carter Elliott, recruit infielder, having preceded him, because he felt he could not make the grade.

Flack was hit recently by a baseball and was anxious to go to his home to recuperate. It is said that he left without having secured Manager Killam's consent.

Despite the absence of Flack, the club showed the effect of the strenuous drilling the past few days when they defeated the Los Angeles yesterday with Hollocher at shortstop, and Friberg at second base, the Cubs put up a classy exhibition.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—The Cincinnati team moved over to Dallas today to play the first of a two game series with the Cleveland Indians. These are the only games to be played with a major league club until the team reaches Cincinnati, just before the championship season. Kirksey will pitch against the American leaguers today and Pete Donahue, who joined the team yesterday at Fort Worth, is slated to start the game for the Reds Sunday.

WHILE A ROOKIE PLAYS HIS SACK

LEW'S FIVE DEFEATED BY GERMANTOWN TEAM

The Germantown basketball team of Clinton, heralded as one of the best in the state, certainly lived up to the advance notices when it met and easily defeated Lew's road team before a good sized crowd at Crescent rink last night. The final score was 19 to 5.

Lew's team was handicapped by the absence of Arthur Ryan and Wing from its lineup. Ryan left yesterday to join the Syracuse baseball team, and Wing was out because of an injury he sustained in a game at Wilton against the Germantown team on last Saturday night.

Hurley of Wilton came on to substitute for Wing, while Winn jumped center in place of Arthur Ryan. Hurley appeared to be out of condition and he was withdrawn from the game in the second period, with Jimmy Keenan taking his place.

The Germantown outfit gave a wonderful exhibition of individual and collective effort. They opened up a hurricane attack and played Lew's team off its feet. They were expert floor workers and on the local surface like men who had played here every day. They passed, ducked and maneuvered with clocklike precision and at times made their opponents look bad. They made long shots and short ones with ease, and their blocking and general defensive play could hardly have been improved upon.

Lew's team played hard to stem the tide, but the teamwork, so conspicuous in their former games here, was absent, and in the final stages of play they became wild in a futile endeavor to stop the Clinton quintet.

Dietel and Braunhardt of the visitors were the star performers of the night, the former getting four baskets with his teammates netting three. Richard Ryan was the only member of the Lew crew to score, he getting the first and last double deckers of the game.

In the preliminary game to decide the team to play the winner of the St. Paul, Minn., March 18.—Tom Gibbons, who built up a string of a score of knockouts in his quest of the heavyweight championship only to be outpointed a few days ago by Harry Greb, cannot punch any harder than he ever could and has been ruined as a superb boxer, temporarily at least. So says his brother, the famous phantom Mike, according to news despatched from Grand Forks, N. D.

"but it was his own fault. Tom has fallen into the same rut that has been the downfall of many other great boxers. Instead of that he worked out a couple of dozen of his slow fellows, which got him quite a standing in the pugilistic world, but it has ruined him as a boxer."

"Tom now neglects to apply himself properly. When training, to fight a fellow of the Greb type, he should have trained fast speed with fast boxing. Instead of that he worked out with big hams and was always practicing knockout punches. The result was he was too slow."

GAMBLING POOL BASED UPON TEMPERATURES

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—Police today announced that they had discovered a gambling pool based upon weather temperatures. They confiscated 1000 tickets which were found in the possession of William Gardner, a salesman who is under arrest.

Tickets were priced at 25 cents and 50 cents and the prizes for winning numbers ranged from $1 to $2000, according to the police, who said the lucky numbers were determined by taking the last numbers of a few selected temperature readings. Gardner's arrest followed the delivery by him of tickets to a patrolman in plain clothes.

This is the second alleged lottery unearthed here since yesterday when the police announced that operation of a nation-wide baseball pool with headquarters in Cleveland, was indicated as the result of the arrest of a man believed by the police to be the local agent.

JOHNNY DUNDEE WINS OVER CHARLEY WHITE

NEW YORK, March 18.—Johnny Dundee of New York was given the judges' decision over Charlie White of Chicago at the end of their 15-round bout in Madison Square garden last night.

Dundee forced the fighting from the start, White being content to "sneak" and use his left to ward off the Italian's attacks. Dundee, though slung several times by the Chicago boy's left hooks and jabs, kept coming in for more. He frequently landed on the ropes and sent rights and lefts to White's body.

White seemed bewildered by Dundee's ring tactics. In the eighth the Italian knocked off all four sides of the ring, swinging his left to White's face at each rebound.

The Chicago boy landed cleanly with his left on numerous occasions, but seldom did it appear to stop Dundee's action against the little rollers.

AL NEBES ISSUES A REAL CHALLENGE

Al Nebes, amateur champion roller skater of the eastern states, offers to race against any five skaters that wish to form a relay team to race against him in the city.

The five skaters will have to skate the ten miles between them, each skater to race two miles, and is to be an amateur.

And Al will let them use what is called a flying start, which means that they will have thirty feet behind the starting line to get up their speed and thus will not lose any time in the relaying which would be an advantage to Nebes. The latter will go the entire distance alone and on top of all this he will let the team a handicap of one mile.

Can he win over such odds? No skater has ever been known to make such an offer even to a single skater, let alone a team of five of the best skaters outside of himself in the city, and no Lowell skater is barred providing he is an amateur.

A relay is already being formed to take Al up on his offer and the race will be put on at the Casino next Wednesday night, the largest crowd of the season no doubt will be there as this is the first time in four years that the Lowell boy has skated in his home town, and the fans will surely be glad to hear that he will be seen in action again on the little rollers.

WRESTLERS TRAINING

Word comes from the rival training camps that Ted Apostolos and Bob Johnson are putting in considerable work in preparation for their much discussed wrestling bout. "This match has been 'in the air' for many months with challenges and counter-challenges being hurled to and fro with ceaseless abandon. Now that the pair have finally come to terms and signed up articles of agreement, the supporters of both look forward to the meeting with confidence and great interest."

THREE OVERTIME PERIODS WITHOUT A SCORE

BOSTON, March 18.—After playing 75 minutes three regular and three overtime periods without score last night, the Westminster Hockey club of this city and the St. Paul (Minn.) Hockey club rested today before taking the ice at the Boston Arena tonight for the next in the series to determine the national amateur hockey championship. Westminster had won the first two games of the series at St. Paul, and needed only one tie to win in the third game required for the title.

Whether the scoreless contest would be declared no game and be replayed or be called a contest without result and count as one of the four stipulated games of the championship series, is to be decided by the executive committee today.

BASKETBALL

The third and final game of the city amateur championship series between St. Patrick's Junior Holy Name and St. Anne's Athletic club teams will be played Monday night at the Crescent rink and both teams are confident of the outcome.

The St. Anne's won the opening contest, but last week the St. Patrick's' quieter, uncovered a remarkable burst of speed and evened up the count. Both games were closely contested and among the best ever seen in a local court.

The lineups for the final game will be the same as those of the other clashes, as previous to the opening of the series each club posted the names of eight men eligible to compete and no name others will be allowed on the floor.

On Tuesday night the C.Y.M.A. and the Y.M.C.A. will resume their series when the fourth game will be played. The count stands 2 to 1 in favor of the Belvidere outfit, the Lyceum Five is out to even the score, while the Thursday after a brief illness.

Mr. Ricard is one of the most enthusiastic advocates of athletics in our city. He is ever ready to do all in his power to encourage and assist in the promotion of sports, and his contribution of the handsome trophy for the amateur basketball series is only a repetition of many previous generous acts.

Basketball fans throughout the city unite in extending their sympathy to Joe Foley of the C.Y.M.A. over the loss of his wife, who passed away on Thursday after a brief illness.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL COACHES

LEFT TO RIGHT: FIELDING YOST, ALONZO STAGG

(By N.E.A. Service)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 18.—The career of most football coaches is of short duration. Let the average coach have a bad season and he is notified that his services are no longer required.

The two exceptions to the rule are Fielding Yost of Michigan and Alonzo Stagg of Chicago. Yost has had charge of football at Michigan for 20 years. He was recently made director of athletics for 25 years has been in charge of sport at the University of Chicago. Like Yost, he directs athletics in all branches.

Some of the greatest stars in the history of the gridiron have been developed by these two great coaches. At a recent indoor meet at Michigan they were snapped while discussing football conditions in the west.

TWO FASTEST HUMAN BEINGS

PALO ALTO, Cal., Mar. 18.—Behold, stated the distance in 9 2-5 seconds, the two fastest human beings in the world, Charlie Paddock, track captain of the University of Southern California, and Morris Kirksey, Stanford's fastest runner. Which, after this spring, will wear the crown? It is just a matter of a few inches between them at the tape.

Kirksey, Stanford's speed marshall, runs the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, beat Paddock to the tape in their last college race soon to be staged?

An Aero-Hydro Race

The "Baby Car," which has broken world's records for speed boats, is shown here making a trial run against an airplane at Miami, Fla.

The verdict was popular with the crowd. It was their tenth ring meeting. White's weight was announced at 134½ and Dundee's at 127½.

ARMY'S BASEBALL SCHEDULE

FIUME OCCUPATION ORDERED BY ITALY

ROME, March 15 (by the Associated Press).—Military occupation of Fiume has been ordered by the Italian government. The army corps at Trieste will be used. The task has been entrusted to Gen. Sanna, to whom it has been suggested that carabinieri be employed for the maintenance of order.

The occupation of Fiume by the military is considered as necessary to the application of the treaty of Rapallo, which charges Italy with the policing of Fiume. It is stated that in sending troops into the city Italy aims only to insure the election of a legal government which will be capable of maintaining order and promoting industry.

COUPLE PERISHED IN AUGUSTA FIRE

AUGUSTA, Me., March 15.—James A. Tard, aged 50, and his wife, 45, lost their lives in a fire that early today destroyed the old Grand Opera House here. The couple lived on the fourth floor of the building, which had been their home for 20 years.

Demand Miller Retract Vice Charges

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—Declaring that Victor J. Miller, president of the board of police commissioners, had failed to substantiate his charges that vice clubs exist at Soldan high school, a parents' committee which has been investigating the charges has demanded that Mr. Miller make a public retraction of the charges.

FORMER SLAVE BURIED

Confederate Veterans Honorary Bearers at Funeral of "A.I." Whiting

WINCHESTER, Va., March 18.—Confederate veterans were the honorary pall bearers at the funeral of "A.I." Whiting, a former slave who died at Stonewall, Whiting, one of the few surviving negroes who served in the confederate army, attended every confederate reunion. He was attached to Co. K, 12th Virginia Infantry, was captured, refused to take oath of allegiance to the federal government, and finally was released on bonds of $5000 with the understanding that he would not return to Virginia during the period of the war.

MAN AND WIFE SERVE ON JURY IN MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Dell Farrar, the first couple to serve on a jury in Minneapolis, disagreed in balloting but Mrs. Farrar finally won her husband over and the jury convicted Asher Rosenberg on a theft charge in district court yesterday.

"It was not a family affair at all," said Mr. Farrar today. "Mrs. Farrar argued with me about it, of course, as did the other members of the jury. Mrs. Farrar was certain from the very first that the defendant was guilty, but I was not so sure about it, so I voted for acquittal until certain points had been cleared up."

CURTIS DISCUSSES LIQUOR SITUATION

BOSTON, March 18.—The handling of the liquor situation in Boston is and must be unsatisfactory because there is not upon the state statute books an act the same in all respects as the Volstead act, according to the report of Police Commissioner Edwin U. Curtis to Governor (Channing) J. Cox, made public yesterday.

"It is a fact," the report says, "that the amendment to the constitution in now in existence, but there is no adequate enforcement act upon our statute books in this state, with the result that the state officers of the law often come in for a great deal of well meant but unjust criticism."

The report says that the arrests for drunkenness for the year ending Nov. 30, 1921, average 54 each day. There

Are Weak Kidneys Making You Feel Older Than You Should?

Many Folks Are Older at 40 Than Others Are at 60. All Too Often Sick Kidneys Are to Blame.

ARE you one of those unfortunate folks who find yourself feeling older and slower than you should? Do you get up mornings feeling lame and stiff; drag around day after day with a constantly aching back? Evening find you utterly worn out—fit only for bed? Do you wonder why you are beginning to feel so old—why you find it so impossible to be happy and to get from life the fun you used to have?

Then you should give some attention to your kidneys! Present day life, with its hurry and worry is mighty hard on the kidneys. The kidneys weaken, uric poisons fill the blood and upset the whole system. That's why so many folks feel years older than they really are. And all too often the true cause is overlooked until the trouble becomes chronic.

Don't neglect these early symptoms! Realize that it's just this condition that leads to hardened arteries, rheumatism, gravel, dropsy and Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"USE DOAN'S," SAY THESE LOWELL FOLKS

J. O. LAMONTAGNE, City Fireman
2 Stevens Street, Says:
"An arm exposed to all kinds of weather, I caught cold which settled on my kidneys and when I attempted to stoop, I could hardly straighten again. I had pain through the small of my back that nearly took away my breath. My kidneys acted frequently and the secretions were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and I prepared some at Lawler's Pharmacy. Doan's helped me right away and relieved me."

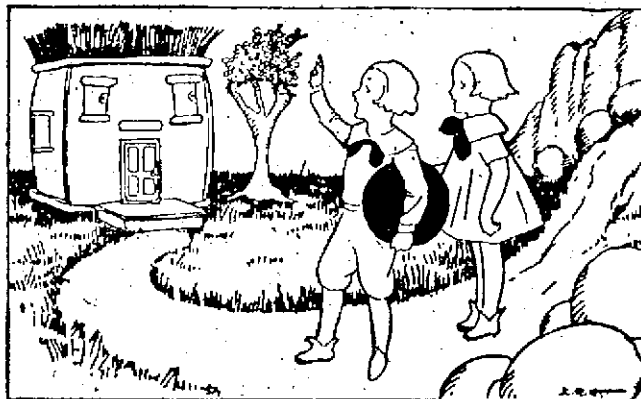

MRS. MARY MOORE
154 Chapel Street, Says:
"When I take cold it goes to my kidneys and causes kidney complaint. It was a task for me to get to bed. My back ached so when stooping, I could hardly straighten. My kidneys acted too freely and my knees bloated. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Liggett's Drug Store and they soon drove the pain from my back and made my kidneys normal. I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Doan's."

Adventures of the Twins

THE RUBBER MOUNTAIN

"GOODBY," CALLED THE TWINS, AND NICK TUCKED THE RECORD UNDER HIS ARM.

That's all the photograph record could or would say. "Oh, I forget! I can't remember anything!"

No one knew the reason for the mystery for no one could see the shred of cloth sticking to it. Twelve Toes the Sorcerer, had he known about it, would have turned inside out for joy, there isn't a doubt. But as for him, he was probably so far away by this time after bouncing off the rubber mountain that he didn't know there was such a place as the earth even.

You might take your mother's opera glasses tonight, or, if your daddy was a soldier, his field glass, and look right past the northeast southwest corner of the moon, and if you see some outlandish thing spinning like a dime on a plate-plane you'll know that it is the goat known as Twelve Toes the Sorcerer, and that he hasn't come to a stop yet.

But the next morning when she rolled out of bed Nancy said she had an idea. "We're not sure that this is the right record anyway," she announced. "The one with Longhead's message might be lying around somewhere else. Silver Wing didn't know where he lost it."

But when Nick was dressed he felt a pricking in his pocket. He reached in and took out the magic paper and the red-feather pen. Instantly the pen began to write these words, "Take the record with you."

"It must be the right one," said Nick, putting pen and paper away, "for the pen knows everything. We'd better be going at once."

"Goodby, then," said the little house, who had been so hospitable. "Will you please lock my door as you go out. And thank you, Nancy, for washing up my dishes. I feel all spick and span inside."

"Goodby," called the Twins, and Nick tucked the record under his arm. Then they started up the rubber mountain.

Instantly the mountain began to tremble and shake like a large bowl of jelly turned upside down.

Girl Held for Larceny of Clothing in Hub

BOSTON, March 18.—A young woman giving the name of Miss Haincio Golden, who said she was a daughter of Joseph Golden, a Springfield broker and real estate dealer, was under arrest today charged with larceny of clothing from a department store on three forged checks. Miss Golden, who had registered at the Copley Plaza hotel as Rita Davis, a Smith college student, was arrested while awaiting an escort to a college fraternity dance. The police said the girl had been involved in worthless check charges at a New York hotel and expressed the opinion that she might also be wanted in Milwaukee.

Prisoner Kills Self by Slashing Throat

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 18.—Shaban Magratenna, serving 15 years at the state prison at Thomaston, cut his throat this morning at the prison, dying shortly afterward. Magratenna arrested in Providence and brought back to Biddeford, was serving sentence for the shooting of Hulin Tahir in an Alfred street coffee house in this city, Oct. 1, 1920. He was committed in January, 1921.

TO DEBATE CLOSED SHOP

Three Seniors and a Junior on 2000 Mile Tour to Seek Forensic Honors for Colby

WATERVILLE, Me., March 18.—Three seniors and a junior left today on a 2000 mile tour to seek forensic honors for Colby college. They will debate with eight institutions on the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop is justifiable." They were escorted to the railroad station by the entire student body, headed by the college band and the faculty.

The students are Forest M. Royal of Houlton, Leonard W. Mayo, New Gloucester, George R. Wolstenholme, Sidney Mines, N. S., and Clyde E. Russell, Charleston. They will be accompanied by Dr. Herbert C. Lillib, head of the department of public speaking at Colby. Their itinerary is as follows:

March 20, Western Reserve university, Cleveland; 21, Kalamazoo college, Michigan; 22, University of Notre Dame, Indiana; 25, Hocking college, Abingdon, Ill.; 27, Simpson college, Indianola, Ia.; April 1, Berea college, Kentucky; 4, William & Mary college, Williamsburg, Va.; 5, Blue Ridge college, New Windsor, Md.

They will attend the annual convention of the National Honorary Forensic Society of St. Kappa Delta at Indianapolis, Ia., and make stops in Chicago, Springfield and Alton, Ill., West Virginia and Washington.

OPIUM DENS MOVE TO PRETENTIOUS QUARTERS

NEW YORK, March 18.—Opium dens and haunts for the use and distribution of narcotics are being moved from their old haunts down in the lower East Side to more pretentious quarters in the upper West Side neighborhoods. This came to light today when Dr. Carlton Simon, special deputy police commissioner in charge of the narcotic division, raided an apartment facing Central park. All the apartments of an opium den were found. A man, who gave his name as Samuel Goldberg, 40, was said by the police to have been smoking opium when they entered. He was arrested and held for investigation.

Several wet sponges were suspended from strings, the police said, and the walls and ceiling had been dampened to prevent the fumes escaping.

A woman, said to have been a motion picture actress some time ago but at present an artist's model, was taken to the police station, with a male companion, but they were released after being questioned. The police found in the rooms a large number of beautifully made opium pipes, and a quantity of opium.

This Brand New Hit Depicts Bored America at a Banquet

HELEN HAYES.

BY ALEXANDER HERNAN
NEW YORK, March 18.—The man from Texas may like his hot lunas, the man from Boston his beans. But get them together at a banquet and they all like the same thing—they have to.

It is the common denominator—the greatest of American indoor institutions. But it never had been properly picked up until George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, authors of "Dulcy," decided to score another success. So they wrote another comedy, put Helen Hayes and Otto Kruger in the leading roles and moved into a theatre two doors nearer Broadway.

"Dulcy" is a huge dose of Shavian wit mixed in "Back to Methuselah" the finest satirization in New York is "Dulcy." It is frothy, yet deep. It is good fooling, with a point.

The whole theatre joins in the fun. The members of the audience are the guests. The occasion is the annual banquet of the common department of piano company.

ANOTHER LOWELL STORE

The Belmont Stores Corporation Will Open Store Here in April

The Belmont Stores corporation, considered New England very carefully and has finally determined upon Lowell as the first city in that district in which it would establish one of its stores. A combination of business reasons and sentiment led to this choice. Lowell seemed to be a substantial business city.

Sentiment was a factor because many of the men in the Belmont Stores corporation are New Englanders, and two of them—being former Lowell men—are enthusiastic believers in Lowell. Mr. Carleton Garrett is a Lowell man and is well known to the business men. Mr. King, the merchandise manager, got his first retail training in Lowell. Later he went to Filene's of Boston, where he was concerned with buying; and four years ago he became a merchandise man in John Wanamaker's New York store. He came to the Belmont Stores corporation from there. His buying organization has been carefully selected and is made up of women who know values and style. Each is a specialist. Among others, there is a mature woman who knows "women's" nature; a younger woman who knows what appeals to the "misses" type; and another young woman who, through satisfying her own needs, knows those of the petite woman who has great difficulty in procuring clothes of suitable size and style and usually is forced either to wear skimpy or have her clothes made especially for her. Each type of woman has her representative right in New York, where styles originate and where the market offers the best opportunities for getting the most wanted things at the right time. Daily contact (by mail and

FOR ALL 'ROUND WEAR
This novel outfit that Dame Fashion presents for spring wear answers nicely as a sporting suit, an afternoon calling outfit or a shopping suit. It is especially attractive to the young girl. Both skirt and jacket are of white material and the trimmings are citron stripes.

GRAND WINDOW DISPLAY AT THE BON MARCHE

Window displays rivalled only by those in smart shops along Boston's Tremont row and New York's Broadway, and interior decorations reminiscent of childhood's dreams of fairyland, announce to the passing public that the 1922 spring opening of the Bon Marche Dry Goods has arrived. A new idea in the window and a tour of the store is distinctly worth while, if one wishes to view a scene of beauty such as is rarely presented in this or any other city.

The outer windows have never been more attractively or effectively decorated than now. A color scheme of cream, black and flame has been carried out to perfection, the floor and background of the windows being richly dressed in these colors, in stripes and other designs. In the rear of the windows are hung pictures of gold brocade silk with uniquely designed lanterns hanging in front. In the larger windows there are, in the center of each, modernist representations of old English doorways, with colored lamps of the old-fashioned style on either side, fronted by ferocious appearing lions, prettily tinted in the predominant colors. Each window displays two ladies in fashionable attire, one standing and one sitting on a garden seat. Women's apparel of the better sort is draped artistically in conspicuous points in both windows.

The smaller windows are given over to attractive groupings of hats and accessories. The same color scheme, on an equally pretentious scale, is carried out in these windows also.

In the departments on the first floor every nook and corner is decorated with excellently designed cream and black vases and urns, filled with bright-hued gladioli. At the head of the stairs leading to the second floor is a beautiful design with a silhouette effect, and another of these is placed near the windows on the same floor. Here, as below, are flower vases and urns in profusion. In the millinery department on the ground floor, besides the garden effect are wonderfully pretty bird cages hung from the ceiling at many points.

In the millinery department there is an attractive display of hats which have come direct from the Boston fashion show. All shapes and colors in the latest modes are laid out in a fashion calculated to attract the feminine eye.

In each department are special showings of the latest spring creations. The management claims that this year's assortment surpasses anything offered in previous years, in exclusiveness, style, quality and assortment. In the suit department may be found suits of strictly 1922 model, a great variety to suit the tastes of all. Short wear is given a prominent display. In attractive color effects and smart lines, and gorgeous wraps of various materials are shown in extraordinary variety. The children have not been forgotten, for great abundance of spring frocks, and other garments dear to the hearts of smartly-dressed little girls form a display of their own. As stated in the company's advertisements, the graces of spring are here enthroned, and a more attractive or absorbing display may be sought in vain.

The decorative work, which is one of the most costly undertakings in the store's history, has been done by the skilled window decorator, A. S. Lemieux, assisted ably by James Murray and James Cropper. All three have been planning the work since Christmas.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." — Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition get it promptly attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles as it did for Mrs. Long.

CHERRY AND WEBB STORE IN SPRING ATTIRE

Cherry and Webb presented a most agreeable surprise to its many patrons in its spring and Easter opening which started yesterday morning and which will continue through Monday of next week. There was no intent on the part of the management for an elaborate display of decorations, no fancy frolics, no concert program, but instead a storewide inauguration of the new ideas of spring and Easter apparel for women, misses and children at a very likeable appearance.

The display windows were tastefully arranged with the latest creations direct from the patterns of millinery decorators and connoisseurs of the latest styles. Ladies' tweed suits, spring wraps and beaded dresses were strewn as a general rule, with a chance of different designs in evidence. The three floors of the store were decorated with wisteria and similar sprigs, while the lavender color in the cards all tended to blend with the general soft color scheme. The wisteria was entwined about the different columns of color and such gave it a very likeable appearance.

The first floor is given over to spring wraps and fur cloaks. Garments and furs are exhibited with all rare judgment for the trade coming through years of experience in business. Many other tempting articles are on sale in the various departments of this store, but wraps and furs are the most prominently displayed.

The second floor is a plot in colors. Hundreds of new suits of all colors may be found in the suit department. The big city folks have taken up the trend suit craze as never before. Those having a desire to follow this style may have their every wish gratified as the assortment to choose from is large in number and varied in style and color.

In another department on this floor over 1000 dresses and evening gowns are being shown. Beaded dresses and gowns are given the place of honor in this department and with the idea of actual sale, and while there are one or two dresses of high price the remainder are within the reach of the Cherry and Webb clientele.

The third floor is given over to children's wear and is commensurate with the rest of the store in regard to quality, style and variety.

Some of the articles to which attention is called include the navy blue suits of tweed, cord and treacle; new blue suits in light shades; new swaggy sport coats with raglan sleeves; knicker suits with skirt to match; new three piece suit, dress and coat to match; dresses of tulle and chiffon; new sport skirts with fringed edges; for chokers in the popular fur; new waists of dainty volles, bolsters and flannels; new flairs silk and mohair.

These are just a few of the articles while still stopping in to look at. The prices are right in all cases and with the 10 per cent discount make attractive buys possible. It may be well to state that the management has announced that the 10 per cent discount will be in effect until the remaining winter lines already reduced in price.

WOMEN'S INDUSTRIAL CLUB CELEBRATES

St. Patrick's day was fittingly observed last evening by the Women's Industrial club of the Massachusetts mills in the employees' recreation hall, when an excellent entertainment, followed by general dancing, was given.

The entertainment opened with a mock trial called "Irish Jesters." John Payne, as judge, presided rapidly over the mimic court, and kept the audience in stitches of mirth throughout the trial. The attorneys, Thomas Grogan and Connie Sullivan, proved excellent lawyers who added their cleverness to the hilarity in getting into trouble. The prisoners, James Bowen, John Burke and Miss Agnes Merrill, were charged with various offenses and were sentenced. The fair and impartial jury consisted of Miss Mary McCarthy, Mary Regan, Anna McCabe, Mary Powell, Miss Fitzgerald and Miss Mary McFarland.

At the conclusion of the mock trial an Irish minstrel show was put on. An opening chorus, including "Come back to Erin," "The Minstrel Boy" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me," was sung by the entire company. The band's original Honey Toy Four, Messrs. Peleman, Condy, Maguire and Handley, gave several selections, which were well received. Miss Rita Halloran, originally costumed, sang "Stand Up and Sing for Your Father," in excellent style, and several other songs. She was assisted by Miss Mary McCarthy. One of the best numbers on the program, "Mother Macdore," was splendidly rendered by Miss Anna McCabe, and as an encore, "The Girl I Left Behind Me," was sung by the entire company.

Her Clients Must Tell the Truth and Take Proper Punishment

MISS IRENE WALSH

I believe should be considered in deciding the degree of a person's punishment.

Miss Walsh has decided she will never accept a case unless her client makes a solemn agreement to observe his oath to tell "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth" when he takes the witness stand.

She will accept all kinds of criminal cases, from petty offenses to murder charges, but only on condition that the true facts be presented to the jury.

Divorce cases? "Certainly," says she, "but with the understanding that I recommend to the trial judge that both parties to the suit be prohibited from remarrying."

sung by the entire company, the large chorus being led by Misses Margaret Hagan and Anna Welch. Leo McFarlane acted as accompanist.

PREVENT THE COAL STRIKE

It seems that the threatened coal strike will come on schedule time if the government does not interpose to prevent it. Just at present, the country is not in a state of mind to tolerate any increase in the price of coal which is the usual result of a controversy of this kind.

The operators for years have been granting the demands of the miners and passing the increase on to the consumers.

The miners now submit seven distinct demands upon which there will doubtless be considerable discussion.

One of these demands is for 20 per cent increase and another for shorter hours of labor.

This is no time for increasing wages and the miners should so understand. While wages in every other industry are being reduced, the miners need not expect that they will be an exception and constitute a law unto themselves.

The public can look only to the government for protection against any prolonged suspension of coal mining. The anthracite miners produce about 11,000,000 gross tons per month and if they should suspend operations even for a month they would find it very hard to catch up after resuming.

The operators refuse to arbitrate and have declared their intention to reduce wages. Secretary Davis of the department of labor has done everything possible to bring about a conference and agreement but without result. It is therefore up to the government to step in and force a settlement of the entire difficulty. If Washington permits the strike to occur with all its concomitant evils, the government, and not the miners or their employers, will be to blame and will be held responsible for the loss to business and the suffering brought to the homes of the poor.

Here is a case in which fact and positive action are demanded in order to avert a serious crisis that would still further disable the industries of the country.

Should the strike be permitted, it will be at once conceded that so far as leadership in the interest of the public welfare is concerned, the republican party is completely bankrupt.

April 1 will tell the tale.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Secretary of Labor Davis in a recent address outlined a plan for furnishing accurate and disinterested information bearing upon the issues in labor disputes and calculated to furnish data for accurate conclusions as to the status of the industry involved or the claims of labor relative to the earnings thereof.

The plan proposed by Mr. Davis contemplates the maintenance of specialists trained in each of 32 key industries throughout the nation so that they would be ready at any time to furnish accurate information concerning the economic and financial conditions of any given line of industry.

The plan seems to have the merit of supplying the thing most needed in order to avert strikes and lockouts, which entail serious loss to both parties. Neither the industries nor the labor organizations want compulsory arbitration so that the government agencies in most cases have no power to interfere between the contending parties. The present textile strikes in New England offer a good illustration of the need of some such information as Secretary Davis says his specialists might furnish. The strike has now been running for over a month and as yet none of the textile corporations affected have come out plainly to inform their employees why a cut in wages as proposed is necessary to the successful operations of the factories. If Secretary Davis had evolved his plan in time, he could have submitted all the necessary information relative to the textile business before the strikes were declared. He might thus have prevented the strikes and brought about a compromise between the operatives and the employers. As it is, only the state authorities tried to interfere and while the corporations were unwilling to arbitrate, the boards of arbitration and conciliation were helpless. It is true some hearings were held, but they served to aggravate rather than relieve the situation.

This proposed plan would serve a good purpose in other industries as well as the textile. It would offset the vast mass of propaganda that is usually sent out by some industries seeking an advantage over labor or some reform which they deem necessary for their success. For many months past the railroads, for example, have been flooding the country with propaganda relative to their financial condition and presenting an array of statistics to show that they cannot reduce the rates nor make the necessary improvements from their present revenues. All this may be true, but if the statistics were given out by government authority, their accuracy would not be questioned and they would have the desired effect.

It would, therefore, seem that Secretary Davis should get his corps of specialists into training as soon as possible so that they will have the affairs of all the key industries at their finger tips ready for any emergency. Such a plan would render very material aid in promoting industrial peace and never was such an agency more needed than at the present time. In Canada strikes are forbidden by law until the government investigates and publishes its finding in the press. The plan of Secretary Davis might finally lead to the adoption of the Canadian idea which has reduced labor troubles to a minimum.

NEW WAYS OF PROGRESS

What becomes of your old clothes after the rag-man and his second-hand customers get through with them?

Teacher taught you, in the little red schoolhouse, that old rags eventually were turned into paper.

That used to be so and still is, to some extent.

But the chances are, the clothes you throw away a few years ago are now covering the roof of a house.

Old rags, pulped into a felt and then permeated with asphalt, are covering more American houses in the form of roll roofing and prepared shingles than all other types of roofing combined.

Ancient Egyptians used a similar

sleeping period from eight hours to one.

The ambitious doctor says he can accomplish these marvels by what he calls "blood irrigation." That is, tapping blood from the body, running it through a device that treats it with serum and electricity, then pumping it back into the body.

While these things may be possible it will be time enough to believe them when they are actually performed. A great many people are disposed to talk of the wonderful things they can do but Edison, Marconi and other great inventors and we might say also the great medical men and surgeons, show what they can do in deeds, rather than in high sounding words.

ELECTION OF POPE

Hereafter the time between the death of a pope and the balloting for the election of his successor, will be fifteen days instead of ten, as formerly.

Pope Pius XI, has extended the time as a mark of his regret at the disappointment of Cardinal O'Connell in failing to reach Rome in time to assist in the election of the new pope. It is quite probable that fifteen days will be sufficient to enable the American cardinals to reach Rome and it will be more than enough if the airplane becomes a common vehicle of rapid transit.

The cardinals from the Orient and Australia, if any there be, could hardly reach Rome in fifteen days unless under the most favorable conditions, which, however, cannot be guaranteed. The fact that on seven different occasions American cardinals have been unable to reach Rome in time to participate in the elections of the new pope made the change necessary and now that it is made, the change will gratify Cardinal O'Connell, who was one of those most bitterly disappointed.

RADIO MARVELS

A flying airplane talked to a racing auto, by radiophone at Framingham. The connection was so good that the motorist even heard the air-pilot's teeth chatter.

This tells you something of the accuracy of the wireless wave. It is man's greatest conqueror of space and location, messages flying true to their mark despite constant and rapid shifting of position by sender and receiver.

A power like that has tremendous possibilities for practical application. It is yet in its infancy and there is no telling how generally it may be applied for the purposes of communication and transmission of intelligence.

POOL ROOMS

Recent developments in the local district court indicate that many boys have been led astray by associating with the gangs that frequent some of the pool rooms. Such pool rooms are undoubtedly very dangerous places for boys to visit. They are frequented by former habitués of the Lyman school, boys convicted of petty larcenies, malicious mischief, stubbornness and other offenses. So far as can be judged, while some of the places may be fairly decent, most of them are little better than schools of crime.

Even if one or two ex-service men did volunteer to act as spotters for the liquor squad, that should not reflect upon the general body but rather upon the city and state that reduced them to such straitened circumstances. There seems to be a great deal of camouflage in the enforcement of the anti-liquor laws.

Possibly the enemies of the treaties now before the senate may oppose further curtailment of the navy on the ground that the warships are needed to prevent smuggling along the Atlantic coast.

The game of Bon-Bon-No is the latest thing and is said to be spreading over the country. It was imported from Honolulu and is played by nine on each side, same as our national game. It is not indoor baseball as some might suppose.

What the laboring people of New England need is more work, not less, and hence the plan of shortening the hours of labor will not solve the existing difficulties.

If "normalcy" is the bottom toward which business is gravitating, it must surely soon be reached. The deflation process is still very active.

When an irresistible force meets an immovable body, what happens? They follow the law of Nature and arbitrate.

Worse than the alien oppressor is the Irishman, whatever his rank, who would stir up civil strife in Ireland.

This is a time when the logic of facts should decide, if it cannot prevent, industrial conflicts.

I have just come here from Vancouver, B. C., and I have been taking your wonderful fruit medicine, "Fruit-a-tives" for two years. No other medicine answers my requirements like yours.

A Thought For Today

Real greatness has nothing to do with a man's sphere. It does not lie in the magnitude of his outward agency, or in the extent of the benefits he produces. The greatest man may do comparatively little, abroad. Perhaps the greatest in our city at this moment are buried in obscurity. Grandeur of character lies wholly in the force of soul, that is in the force of thought, moral principle and love.—William Ellery Channing.

A Word a Day

Today's word is proposition. It's pronounced—prop-uh-uh-uh, with accent on the second syllable. It means—one who proposes, one who advocates a plan or scheme of action, a supporter, one who makes a proposition. It comes from—Latin "proponere" to place before. It's used like this: "President Harding is the proponent of a sales tax to defray the cost of the service men's bonus."

A Good Comeback

The manager of a store was examining the applicant for a position. "Are you a teetotaler?" he asked. "Yes," was the reply. "A good salesman?" "Yes, indeed." "Can you tell a good lie?" was another question, and there were others referring to his ability to speak foreign languages, etc., all of which were satisfactorily answered. The applicant was engaged and he got on famously until a French girl approached and made known her interest in her own tongue. Then he was stumped. Five minutes later he was facing an indignant employer. "This is scandalous, sir. When I engaged you, you said you could speak French," he exclaimed. "True," replied the culprit, "but you also asked if I could tell a good lie."

Hears Through Fingers

"Hearing" a telephone message through her finger tips is one of the remarkable accomplishments of Willetta Huggins, 18-year-old pupil at the state school for the blind at Janesville, Wis. Totally blind and deaf, this child has a nervous sensitivity so highly developed that, when "tapped" by the sense of smell and "heard" by the sense of touch. Recently she accompanied a group of physicians and psychologists at Madison, Wis., when she accurately repeated a telephone message received by placing the tips of her fingers on the diaphragm of the receiver. She needed no glasses, was blind, deaf, dumb, and yet she was able to hear the message through her finger tips. She also distinguished the colors of cloth in the same way, according to a statement of the Wisconsin state health board.

Ignorance

When the strain of intellectual bluff is telling on comfort and nerves, I want to mystify the confidant rebuff. "That my vanity well deserves." When I think it is time that the high-bred head should be recently bowed and low, I think of the books I have never read. And the things I shall never know. I never have finished the Fairy Queen. Nor started The Ring and the Book; And Tolstoy's the author of Works, Whose title I have had no look. To all of the charm of Sir Walter Scott. And Cooper, I'm quite immune; Of the great Radio, I have never a jot. "And I never read 'Lorna Doone'."

In youth, I considered old Fielding fine. And Sterne I am fond of still. But of Samuel Richardson, not one line. Have I read, and I never will. I would be a sage in my comrades' eyes. So whenever I hear them quote From Epictetus, I look right wise. But what was the book he wrote? —TED ROBINSON, in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Files of worn-out cross ties in process of being burned by repair gangs are familiar sights along railroads. Every now and then someone writes a letter to the editor, or the editor writes a letter to a newspaper, protesting against what he believes is a needless waste, and raising the question why railroad companies do not allow people to take the old ties for fuel, or find some other use for them. The fact is that it is not true that all old ties are burned. A considerable number constantly are being sold to persons living near the right of way. That is about as far as railroad companies have been able to go, thus far, in finding an outlet for worn-out ties. Such a method of disposal is practicable only in those cases where the ties can be delivered at a public crossing or at another point where they can be obtained safely. No railroad company can sanction the public going promiscuously over tracks to gather up old ties. To do so would be practically letting down the bars against trespassing on the tracks, an evil against which railroads have struggled for years and which has been the cause of half of all the fatal accidents on roads throughout the country. Efforts have been made from time to time to interest dealers in firewood in buying the old ties, but not thus far with much success. The chances appear to be that the ties are often dirty, that they contain more or less stone, grit and slag wedged in the cracks, which might injure saws used in cutting them; that in many cases they are partly decayed; that they are diled out and that their fibre is more or less crushed, so that they burn out too quickly. Efforts also have been made to dispose of old ties in a number of other purposes, for the extraction of chemicals, for burning and sale of the ashes for fertilizer and for manufacture into charcoal, but without success in interesting parties engaged in these occupations.

A few days ago I saw two dogs, both unmuzzled, attack a dog, which was muzzled, and give it a fierce chewing. The muzzled animal was practically helpless. It had too much grit to be forced to take a drubbing principally because the law calling for all dogs to be muzzled has not been enforced. One may find many unmuzzled

STANDARDIZE CLERKS' SALARIES

There is some agitation for a city ordinance standardizing salaries of clerks in municipal departments. Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy sponsored a similar order in 1920. The ordinance would set minimum and maximum salary limits, probably based on length of service and the type of work for which a clerk is employed.

The regular meeting of Merrimack Valley lodge I.O.O.F., M.U., was held last evening in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street. A resolution by which the lodge refused to participate in competitive staff drills in the future, was adopted. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that a summoned meeting will be held next month, the date to be announced later. At the close of the business session a social hour was held during which entertainment numbers were given.

TELLS STORY OF ANOTHER MARY ELLEN GHOST

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Dr. Thaddeus L. Bolton, professor of psychology at Temple university, yesterday made public an episode, coincident in many respects to the occurrences at Antigonish, said to have been inspired by a ghost, "discernable" in the case of a Canadian family by the present governor, Joseph H. Dixon, then a United States senator. The supposed supernatural manifestations had occurred in the household of a Canadian family by the name of MacDonald, who had been living in a mountain gulch near Missoula, according to Dr. Bolton. MacDonald, he said was a man about 35 then. Phenomena at MacDonald's house had concerned spirit knocking, ghostly visions and other peculiar things.

Dr. Bolton said he visited the home and found the family consisted of MacDonald, his wife and a 3-year-old girl, Mary Ellen. He described a scene at the house where ghostly rappings were heard daily, but investigation developed, Dr. Bolton declared, that the rappings had been produced by Mary Ellen while in a somnambulistic state induced by self-hypnotism.

PROBES DEATH OF OMAHA BOXER

OMAHA, Neb., March 18.—State Boxing Commissioner Boyle was today investigating the death of Charles Hayville, Omaha boxer, who died twenty minutes after he was knocked out by Ray Carter of Sioux City, Ia., here last night.

Dr. M. J. Ford, who examined the fighter, said that he was in excellent condition before the fight. Death was due, the doctor said, to paralysis of the respiratory center when his head struck the canvas.

SAVED BY WAR RECORD

District Attorney Gains Buddy's Release—Pal, Who Stayed at Home, Held

NEW YORK, March 18.—Two convicts were arraigned yesterday in general sessions before Judge Cohn, charged with stealing an automobile in this city before going to Orange county and breaking into a grocery store, for which they served 15 months in Sing Sing.

One of the convicts was James E. Taylor, a New Yorker, who went to war and fought valiantly.

The other was Herbert Conklin of Mountville Mills, N. Y., who stayed at home.

Taylor confessed that he had stolen the automobile. Then Asst. Dist. Atty. John L. McDonnell, who was Taylor's top sergeant in the 107 Infantry, stepped forward.

"This man was a buddy of mine," was his simple introduction. "A few years ago the chief executive mobilized the forces of the country for war. That was before the selective draft act was passed. Some men enlisted to fight for their country. This man was one of them. He went to the 107th Infantry. He fought in all the engagements his regiment was in. This included seven major operations in Belgium, Flanders and France.

He helped to smash the Hindenburg line in his division. He has lain in shell holes, was helped over the top, has aided in burying the dead and his name is indelibly inscribed on the honor roll of the 107th Infantry.

"He married, but later lost his position and he got in with bad company. He was convicted and sent to Sing Sing for a year."

"There is a job waiting for him. I respectfully ask you that you throw into the balance the service of this man to his country when you pass judgment on him."

In suspending sentence, Judge Cohn said:

"The district attorney has forcefully made a plea on the fact of your service to your country."

Conklin, tears streaming from his eyes, raised his head when he was asked if he had anything to say.

"I didn't go to France. I'm no good alongside of Jim. I am an ex-convict. North Carolina has been looking for me for years. Since I escaped from prison in Raleigh, I don't bother about me. I'm no good."

He was held for the North Carolina authorities.

GUNS, ETC., USED BY T. R. AS COWBOY DISPLAYED

NEW YORK, March 18.—A collection of guns, knives, chaps and cooking utensils—the original equipment used by Theodore Roosevelt during his cowboy days in the Dakotas—was placed on view today here, by the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

The various relics were presented to the association by A. W. Erickson of New York, who secured them from A. Merrifield of Somers, Mont., one of Col. Roosevelt's ranch partners in the early 80's.

A relic of the colonel's first experiences in big game hunting, included in the collection, is an old 40-46 caliber rifle, known to old frontiersmen as a "beargun." It is decorated with engravings of an elk, a bear, and a Rocky Mountain sheep.

"Bill" Roosevelt's old guide and partner, who visited the association while the relics were being unpacked, recognized this old gun instantly.

"This is the gun he used when he shot his first bear," he exclaimed. "It was a favorite with him, and was the one he used on a thief hunt when he and I caught the three men who stole his horse."

The smaller relics contained in the collection include a pocket compass carried by the colonel during all his years in the west, a silver drinking cup made from the top of a whiskey flask, and a pair of nose glasses which, according to Merrifield, "he always carried with him in case of accidents, but left on the ranch when he went to New York."

inventor, who told his hearers his invention was the result of four years work. "Cold light" is said to be pure white and so free from heat that highly explosive photographic films may be subjected to it for hours without burning. It is said.

It is declared the discovery will be of great value in the projection of motion pictures.

SINN FEIN BODIES ARE SUPPRESSED

BEI-FAST, March 18.—(By the Associated Press) The Ulster home office has in the last 48 hours suppressed five local bodies in the six county area, all having Sinn Fein majorities regarded by the northern government as recalcitrant.

Commissioners have been appointed to discharge their duties. The bodies suppressed were: The Magherafelt, County Derry, Guardians; the Rural Councils of Cookstown, in County Tyrone; Downpatrick, in County Down; Lisnakea, in County Lurganagh; and the city council of Armagh.

case of Alfred Willette, charged with illegal keeping, which will be decided later by the court. It was in reference to some Jamaica ginger alleged to have been purchased by an associate of the liquor squad, who admitted on the stand that he told the defendant that he was ill. The question comes as to whether or not the defendant was selling the liquor for beverage purposes. The law allows storekeepers to carry Jamaica ginger for other than beverage purposes.

Were Jointly Arraigned
Antonio P. Avila and Manuel Santos were jointly arraigned on a charge of illegal keeping. They were arrested following a raid two weeks ago but the case has been continued since March 5.

Avila keeps a store at 65 George street. When riders went in another man was in charge of the store. The officers went up stairs in a tenement and found a quantity of contraband.

According to Lieut. Palmer's testimony Avila said he let some of his store into the store to sell to Santos and that Santos handled the liquor end of the business; that when persons came in looking for liquor Avila passed them on to Santos. Lieut. Palmer also said that Santos claimed all ownership of the liquor.

It was brought out that the door in the store leading to Santos' two rooms was locked. Sergt. Winn testified that when he knocked, the door was opened and that Santos and a girl, who was drinking, were inside.

Santos testified that the contraband was found in his tenement on the third floor, four gallons of pure rum and two rooms was locked. Sergt. Winn testified that when he knocked, the door was opened and that Santos and a girl, who was drinking, were inside.

STOLEN CIGARETTES

John Tassafas was charged with concealing 8000 cigarettes, which had been stolen. The complaint alleged that Tassafas knew the cigarettes had been stolen. Tassafas asked for a continuance which was granted. The date set for the trial is March 27.

Clement Robitaille was brought in on a non-support charge made by his wife. They were married over a year ago. The woman said he had given her no support and that the city helped out but refused to when it was found the husband was working. It was brought out that the husband had been working steadily for eight years and getting $13.45 per week.

The court, in sentencing him to the house of correction for five months, said: "Here is a man who is working and attempting to shirk his duties as a husband."

Was Fined $150
Philip Lallas pleaded guilty to a charge of illegally keeping liquor and was fined $150, which he paid.

Joseph M. Gallivan, charged with drunkenness, was given quite a call down by the court who said: "I don't want any more of you. You are a man who is on probation in a helpless condition." Gallivan was found in a helpless condition early this morning on Church street. The case was continued to Monday.

John E. Butler, charged with drunkenness, was ordered to three months in the house of correction, with sentence suspended for six months.

A charge of illegal keeping against Giovanni Sigelakis was continued to April 1.

Francis P. Donohue, who was arrested Thursday and booked on a drunkenness charge was arraigned. Four officers testified that Donohue was drunk. The court said that Donohue surely did not look bad, and then placed the case on file.

Donohue interrogated Officer Aldrich who arrested him. He asserted that the drunken charge was placed against him simply to hold him.

Other Offenders
Luis Wajtonlez was adjudged guilty of assault and battery and fined $5. Stanislaw Lebedinski, who was brought to court on March 13 for drunkenness, but whose case was continued until today was defaulted.

Louis Chomazopoulos paid a fine of $100 and Christos Mangos $150 after being found guilty of illegal liquor keeping. Both cases had been continued.

DANGEROUS STOVE
POLISH CONDEMNED

Chief Neal of the district police has issued an important notice against a certain brand of dangerous polish that is regarded as very dangerous if used on a stove or near a fire. It is in form and as it contains gasoline and naphtha is very liable to catch fire. The bottles bear this legend:

"This polish has all the virtues of a naphtha or benzene stove polish and conforms to all the Massachusetts laws regulating the manufacture and sale of stove polish."

In reply to this, Chief Neal sends out this warning:

"The public is hereby warned that the foregoing statement is misleading and untrue. Several samples of the said stove polish have been tested by the official chemist of this department and found to contain gasoline and naphtha in dangerous proportions, therefore the manufacture, storage, transportation and sale of the said stove polish constitutes a violation of Section 58, Chapter 118 of the general laws of this Commonwealth."

The publication of this notice is for the purpose of preventing fires and accidents which may result from the use of the said stove polish."

Was Fined $100
George M. Clark, who kept a saloon on Fayette street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal sale of liquor. Nicholas Charas, connected with the liquor squad, said that he purchased a certain case also a half pint of liquor from Clark.

On cross-examination it was brought out that Charas said that he lived in a block across the street from the saloon and wanted the liquor for a woman there.

This saloon was the one in which

SEEK MAN IN DEATH CASE

Police Hunt Tech Student Who Fleed After Pauline Clark Died of Poison

Other Members of Party Who Witnessed Tragedy Questioned by Officers

BOSTON, March 18.—The setting for the suicide by poison of Pauline Virginia Clark, was a subject of police inquiry today. The authorities had established, they said, that the young woman, who as a model a few years ago was declared by sculptors to be almost perfect in form, ended her life while dealing with a group of friends in her apartment. These friends included Bayard Wharton of Philadelphia, a student at Harvard college, where he has been active in athletics and Otto Hauler Larsen of Christiania, Norway, a student at Massachusetts Institute of Tech.

Wharton has given his account of the tragedy, but the police say that Larsen disappeared soon after efforts to locate him failed.

As Pauline Herrick her engagement to James Davis, a Harvard student, was announced in 1913. But it was Lieut. Commander William Thomas of the navy that she married. She was divorced from him a year ago.

Wharton, who had known Mrs. Clark about a year, said she had invited her friends to the party of Wednesday night, telephoning him at his Harvard dormitory. She had been melancholy since her divorce and in financial difficulties recently. Although it appears now that she set the scene for her suicide, she said nothing to him that indicated any such intention.

Wharton said she did show him two bottles, one of which she said contained perfume. The other she did not describe.

Medical Examiner McGrath said Mrs. Clark had displayed a bottle to a young woman friend several days ago, saying there was enough poison in it to "kill an army." When she was through with life, she said, she would use it.

It was early Thursday morning when the young woman, sitting with Wharton and Larsen while they munched sandwiches and drank, collapsed, the former said. She made no remarks indicating her intention to take her life, he added, and so far as known, died without making a statement.

Other members of the party who have been questioned by police are Robert Christie, described as a western business man; Joseph Tury of Worcester, and Miss Annie Cowsley, also of Worcester.

contribute to one of the biggest and most thrilling climaxes ever filmed. Tenny, Jolly, who in early life is Mrs. Janyakawa, appears in the role opposite the star.

The natural supposition is that all that is needed is the mention of the name of "The Rough Diamond," in which he will appear during the last three days of the week to display an extraordinary departure from his usual run of stories. It is a thrilling romantic story with Mrs. Janyakawa in the role of the dashing gentleman adventurer, and she is reported to have been very much pleased with the role.

Some new and startling capabilities never before reflected by him on the screen. His comely features are sure to fascinate the audience and his half-raising stunts always thrill. Don't miss him in his latest.

The "Irish Ghetto" of New York is the locale for another of those breezy Irish comedies which have become famous through their appearance in recent special attractions. "The Dittany" shows the star as the dapper, dashing, and droll character who uses the proverbial fighting spirit and she uses it too—when her sweet-heart is threatened with trouble and she knows what a punk little fellow can do when hard pressed. You have seen Mrs. Janyakawa in many happy and delightful roles, but this one surpasses all her former roles.

The remainder of the program will be rounded out with a good comedy and an interesting Weekly issue.

OPERA HOUSE
The Vehicle of Entertainment at the Opera House Next Week Will Be "Slippy McGee," the Story of a Clever Crook

"Slippy McGee," a dramatization from the book of the same name, by Marie Conway Oenler, and prepared for the stage by Edward E. Ross, of the "Theatricals" and many other stage successes, will be the vehicle of entertainment at the Opera House for the coming week. When the story appeared in book form it became a public sensation and was read by millions. Since its dramatization, it has also enjoyed unusual popularity, and should make for good entertainment during its local run. "Slippy McGee" is the story of a clever crook who makes his getaway with a freight train, when he meets with a serious accident. He is terribly mangled and when he comes to himself he is in the home of the parish priest in a little South Carolina mill town, too crippled to pursue his old calling. His one piece of luggage, his burglar's kit, has disappeared and he does not know until long afterwards, when a great and sudden emergency calls for it, that Father De France has hidden it inside the statue of Saint Stanislaus, the patron saint of thieves.

With the aid of the priest and the beautiful Mary Virginia becomes "The Dittany McGee" loved by the whole community, cotton growers and cotton spinners alike. He is a man who has a plot to blackmail, unscrupulous and brings to justice two villains one the boss of the mill and the other a pious villain, and how he makes the course of true love run smooth at the price of his own heart's longings, are some of the human touches that go to make it a great play that will hold the audience breathless with keen interest from the start to the closing curtain.

The character of Slippy McGee is the principal one of the story, and it is his story that will come into his own. It will be one of the most big parts that he has had since his coming to Lowell. The others of the cast, too, will find them-

HAD SEVERE PAIN ACROSS HER BACK

Middletown Woman Could Not Stoop Over to Pick Anything From the Floor

When the muscles of the back that endure the heavy strains of lifting are undernourished they announce the fact by a pain that is called lumbago. These muscles are nourished by the blood which brings them the elements they need and carries away the impurities resulting from their work. When the blood becomes thin it cannot do this and the muscles are starved. The patient feels weak in the back. The blood stream being very unable to carry away the impurities, the system is poisoned. Inflammation results and the patient has a sharp pain in the back. This is the theory; here is a practical case.

I suffered for four months from lumbago brought on by a general run-down condition of my system. Mrs. Sarah A. Washer, of No. 133 Linden avenue, Middletown, N. Y. "I was weak and kept losing strength. There was a severe pain across my back. When I sat down I could hardly get up. I used chloroform, but it only relieved the pain for a moment. I could not stoop over to pick up anything off the floor. In addition to the lumbago I was very nervous and had frequent dizzy spells. I think that all my trouble was due to thin blood for I had always been of an anemic tendency."

"Once before I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for my blood and when the pain and the nervousness became unbearable I decided to give this remedy a thorough trial. I was surprised to find that after I had taken the first box the lumbago pains were gone. My nerves were quieter and I could see that I was gaining in strength. I continued the treatment and now I am glad to recommend the pills to anyone needing a tonic for me. I have done so much for me. I shall take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I need building up as I have the greatest confidence in them."

selves pleasantly assigned, particularly Miss Fields in the girl Mr. Alblon as the friend, Katharine Atkins as the villain, and Miss Crawford.

Laying, Vincent Dennis, Miss Hill and the others in congenial roles. The staging of the piece will be carried out on the same scale as the results of former productions, and will help make it wonderfully satisfying.

The play should draw capably audiences. It has in every other city where it has played, and every city will not prove the exception to the rule. Tickets are now selling, and judging from the advance sale, there is little doubt but that the attendance will be large at all performances.

The box office will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Tel. 261. Tickets may also be procured at the downtown office at the Prince-Walter Shop.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate and insurance, offices, 64 Central street, corner Prescott street, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week:

On behalf of Harry Dunlap, executor of the estate of the late Mrs. Belle D. Tuttle, conveyance has been effected of the residential property at 62-64 Hanks street. The property has two apartments of eight rooms each, equipped with every convenience and situated directly opposite the grounds of the Rogers Hall school. The land involved totals 2250 square feet. The grantees are Mrs. Marie G. Gormley and Mrs. Agnes L. Sheehan, buying for combined occupancy and investment. The sale is made in conjunction with the office of Murphy and Gormley.

Also the sale of two parcels of land situated on the southerly side Princeton street and its junction with Stewart street. The lots have a street frontage totalling one hundred feet and with an area of 4000 and 4100 square feet respectively. The transfer is effected on behalf of Stewart C. Guller, the grantee being Benjamin T. Roper, who buys for purposes of investment.

Quarter Century Ago

The great national event of St. Patrick's day quarter of a century ago was the fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons at Carson City, Nev. It attracted worldwide attention. Corbett had been champion and Fitzsimmons was a very popular pugilist. Vast amounts changed hands on the outcome. Neither man had much advantage of the other until after the tenth round when Corbett began to weaken and showed a loss of ability to land his blows on his antagonist. Following is the account of the last round as reported in the old Sun:

"Round 14—The round opened with a left swing for the jaw by Corbett. It missed the mark, but he tried again with better success, reaching the jaw good and hard. Fitzsimmons was all there, however, and he sent his left to the body with terrific force. The blow sent Corbett staggering backwards several feet, and evidently hurt him badly. Fitzsimmons lost no time, but followed closely, and sent his right to Corbett's face, causing him to totter again. He then pushed his left hand on the body and was hot after his man, but Corbett gave ground to get away. Corbett came on strong, however, and put his left hand on Fitzsimmons' body. The latter put in a hard right on the head. Jim was looking tired, his strength was gone, and he clinched. After the break-away Fitzsimmons put in a hard right and left on the jaw, and the men clinched again. Corbett fighting Fitzsimmons into the southwest corner of the ring. Jim put his left on the jaw and Fitzsimmons sent his right to the chin with fearful force. The blow made Corbett lean backwards and turned him nearly around. He raised his guard a trifle and quick as a flash Fitzsimmons shot his left glove on Corbett's body just below the heart. The blow was one that would have shivered a plank and Corbett's face paled instantly. His arms fell to his side, his eyes closed and he pitched for the ropes, groping for them with his right hand. His face bore a look of intense agony and he pitched, suffering the most excruciating pain. He tried to rise, but Fitzsimmons with his right caught him a jab on the chin. Corbett was not knocked out in the common acceptance of the word. He was not unconscious, but the pain resulting from the blow under his heart was so great as to make him powerless to rise. He tried to rise several times to rise, but was unable to do so and was counted out by the referee, and his championship was gone."

From the old Sun:
"The paper read by Mr. Lawrence Cummings at the smoker of the Matthew Temperance Institute Tuesday evening defined very clearly the work of a newspaperman. He related several instances of his own career to illustrate the various points referred to during his remarks. Taking General Taylor of the cloth as his model, Mr. Cummings told many incidents of that great journalist's life and quoted his wise counsel. He said:
"General Taylor of the Globe in one of his addresses to his employees in Euclid hall, gave the advice that it is a great deal better to give a man a lift to aid him in life than it is to kick him down when he is down. The Matthews and other temperance organizations by their action in inducing a man to sign the temperance pledge and helping him afterwards to keep that pledge are daily carrying out that great suggestion."

Mr. Cummings has had long experience in the newspaper business; he is still in the game as the local correspondent of the Boston Globe. General Taylor has passed away but he has left New England what is recognized as the greatest journalistic legacy of his age.

The 54-Hour Law

Says The Sun:

"The committee on labor of the legislature continued the hearing on the bill reducing the hours of labor in manufacturing establishments from 58 to 54 hours a week. The entire morning was taken up by two witnesses, both of whom appeared in opposition to the proposed legislation. W. N. Southworth, representing cotton mills of this city, declared that Massachusetts could stand no more hostile legislation of this kind."

In spite of all protests the bill was passed after and later the working hours were all further reduced, the 48-hour law having been put into operation in February, 1919.

Parade in Lawrence

Says the old Sun:

"For the first time in 16 years the Catholics of Lawrence have observed the feast of Ireland's patron saint with elaborate exercises, and the celebration of the day is such as to be long remembered by all gallant sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle who participated in it. There was a splendid parade in which several local divisions of the A.O.H. took part."

State Rests in Cunningham Murder Case

DEDHAM, March 17.—The state rested today in the trial of Caleb Loring Cunningham of East Milton for the murder of John Johnson of West Quincy, a wood cutter on Jan. 5, 1921. The last witness for the commonwealth, Sergeant Daniel H. Doran of the Quincy police force, testified as to Cunningham's detention at the police station after his arrest. The defendant told the witness that he had asked the police to protect him and his property but as they had not he had done so himself, Sergeant Doran asserted.

Moonshine Not Private Property

WATERBURY, Conn., March 17.—When the plea was made before United States Commissioner Bernard E. Lynch of New Haven, sitting here late yesterday by men arrested on charges of having liquors in their possession that "it was for my own use" (the commissioner replied: "Moonshine is not private property. No one can expect to escape punishment for having 'moonshine' in their possession by making claim 'I bought it for my own use.' The government owns all intoxicating liquors until a revenue tax has been collected.")

637 Cases of Liquor in Cars

MIAMI, Fla., March 17.—Appetizers suitable for starting breakfast and ending dinner were found to comprise the contents of two freight cars seized by county sheriffs and railroad police, last night on the tracks of the Florida East Coast railroad. One car netted the officers 437 cases of assorted liquor packed in grapefruit and the other 200 cases which had been concealed in a consignment of fresh vegetables.

ON TWO MIXED JURIES

N. J. Judge Excuses Mrs. Cunningham Who Says Women Not Fitted for Duty

TRISTON, N. J., March 17.—(By the Associated Press.) Judge Marshall in the murder circuit of the court of the common pleas, has excused Mrs. Anna Cunningham from further jury service after hearing that her experience on two mixed juries within a week had convinced her that women were not fitted for such duty. During this time she was locked up all night for deliberation and she declared she has not yet recovered from threatened nervous prostration. Her views are endorsed by her husband, James.

"The present illness of Mrs. Cunningham is the first at all serious in 16 years," he said. "I attribute it solely to the mental and nervous strain to which she had been subjected."

Mrs. Cunningham cited numerous reasons for reluctance further to participate in the administration of justice. Among these reasons were five children and a husband.

"In a sense I also consider that jury duty is an insult upon woman's natural modesty, refinement and reserve," she added. "Some cases which she is called upon to consider are of a nature so delicate that she shrinks from a frank discussion of the evidence, and a just verdict is impossible otherwise. I am speaking for the first time since I began service as a juror and do so now only that others might know what to expect if they accept the obligation."

FORD READY TO FIGHT

DETROIT, March 17.—Declaring that "if it's the last thing I do in this world, I'll exert every resource and influence at my command to keep the hands of Wall Street off Muscle Shoals," Henry Ford today broke his silence maintained during the last two months with regard to his offer to lease and operate the government water power project at Alabama.

Mr. Ford made the statement to the Detroit News in response to an intimation reaching him to the effect that, because of his silence, the people of southern states had begun to wonder whether he had lost interest in the project.

KAHN WARNS CONGRESS

Declares False Economy Poorest Kind of Economy in Opposing Army Cut

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Warning members of congress that "false economy is the poorest kind of economy," Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee declared today during consideration of the army appropriation bill that a reduction in the size of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers as proposed in the measure, would be "altogether too drastic a cut at this time."

The Kansas representative held that pay provision should be made for 150,000 men and 13,000 officers during the coming fiscal year, as requested by the War Department, or if congress were determined to direct a reduction in the strength of the army, the enlisted strength should not be decreased below 140,000 men.

"Clearly it has seemed to become probable on the part of a good many of the men in congress to insist on cutting down the allowance of our army and navy," Mr. Kahn said. "Economy is the watchword of a good many legislators, but let me call the attention of the house to the fact that false economy is the poorest kind of economy."

Reviewing the military situation prior to the entrance of the United States into the World War, the chairman asserted that by reason of our lack of preparedness we were compelled to expend during the 19 months we were in the war, the startling sum of $21,000,000,000.

When compared with the expenditures of the American people for pleasure or non-essential commodities, the cost of the war was insignificant, he contended, as he quoted a variety of statistics.

During the fiscal year 1921, the house was told, when appropriations for the regular army, the National Guard and the organized reserves aggregated $122,000,000, the public spent $87,000,000 for admission to theatres, concerts, cabarets, baseball games and other entertainments; $1,151,000,000 for tobacco and related materials; $750,000,000 for candy and chewing gum; $324,000,000 for sodas and confections; and $359,000,000 for personal adornment. Comparing the expenditures of the United States during 1920-21 on its army with that expended by other nations, Mr. Kahn said the United States expenditures totaled $343,153,303 or $3.22 per capita, while those of the British empire, exclusive of dependencies, amounted to $562,123,000, or $22.52 per capita; France $335,227,000, or $26.70 per capita; and Japan $180,082,000, or $3.38 per capita.

"These figures show that we are exceedingly mindful of the welfare of our people in keeping down military costs and expenditures," declared the speaker.

Contrasting with other leading powers the size of the army in comparison with the population, Mr. Kahn said that for the year 1921, the number in the American army was 142 per 1000 population while the number in Great Britain was 7.31; France 14.47; Italy 5.17; Japan 5.4 and China 1.03.

"A comparison of our national wealth with the number of soldiers now maintained in the regular army," the house was informed, "shows that each soldier is charged with affording protection and national security to 700 people."

BOOTLEGGERS IN PLOT TO CORRUPT OFFICERS

WANGOR, Mo., March 17.—A conspiracy of local bootleggers to corrupt federal officials was disclosed here today when Michael Driscoll was arrested before Commissioner C. H. Held, charged with attempting to bribe Robert H. Jack, federal prohibition enforcement officer for the northern district of Maine.

Caught by prearrangement in the act of offering the officer an income of $1000 a month for telling him when raids were to be conducted in Bangor, Driscoll made the statement that he was acting for other parties, mentioning names of several prominent citizens. Indictments for conspiracy to bribe an officer will be sought from the federal grand jury at the June term of the district court, Mr. Jack stated.

Driscoll was released on $2000 bail until Monday afternoon, when a hearing will be held. He was arrested by E. L. Forward, special intelligence officer of the bureau of internal revenue.

VIRGIN MARY PATRON SAINT OF FRANCE

PARIS, March 17.—The Virgin Mary is declared the patron saint of France and Joan of Arc, now Saint Joan, the secondary patron saint, in Pope Pius' first order concerning France, published today.

The order was in response to a request from the French ecclesiastics submitted to Pope Benedict, who did not act upon it, his death intervening, but which was taken up and granted by the new pontiff.

BOSTON GIRL WAS VICTIM OF POISON

BOSTON, March 17.—The body of Pauline Virginia Clark, 23 years old, was found today in a room on Newbury street, under circumstances indicating that she had poisoned herself. Medical Examiner Magrath, after an investigation said the girl had collapsed while entertaining some friends last night. When a physician arrived she was dead.

Friends of the young woman said that she had previously exhibited a bottle labelled poison and had asserted that when she was through with life, she would make use of it.

INSISTS STRIKEBREAKERS AT WORK IN MILL

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 17.—In spite of the Amalgamated company's statement that no outside workers are being brought here for work in the mills here, Vice President James Starr of the United Textile Workers today stated that union leaders knew for a fact that such importations are taking place. If any disturbances are reported from the picket lines, Mr. Starr said, they will be caused by these outsiders. ## BOOZE LABELLED "FISH" IRISH COLORS TROOPED

Scotch Whiskey Valued at $18,000 Seized at St. John, N. B. Dublin Witnesses Unique Ceremony as Part of St. Patrick's Day Celebration

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 17.—Scotch whiskey in barrels labelled "fish," valued at more than $18,000, and said to have been billed for New York, was held by local authorities today pending official action by provincial liquor officers concerning its disposal. A guard of heavily armed revenue officers surrounded the box car in which the barrels were found.

Officers became suspicious when they noticed the barrels of "fish" being loaded into the car. They opened one of the barrels. Beneath a shallow layer of not very fresh fish, they claim to have found a large amount of whiskey labelled "Teacher's Highland Cream."

DUBLIN, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.) Dublin today witnessed a ceremony unique in its history when, as a part of the St. Patrick's day celebration, the trooping of the tri-color occurred in Marlborough hall, which was recently evacuated by the British forces and is now occupied by Irish Volunteers. On former St. Patrick's days it has been the trooping of the Union Jack in Dublin Castle.

Now for the first time in Ireland's history the Irish flag was similarly honored.

Seven hundred Irish Volunteers attended mass in the Glasnevin church and afterwards marched to Marlborough hall, where the Irish colors were trooped in the presence of Minister of Defense Richard Mulcahy, members of the headquarters staff of the Irish republican army and the general public.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 17.—The Kent Manufacturing Co., announced today that its woolen mill at Centerville, in the Pawtucket valley, will operate on a four days a week basis until further notice. Up to this week the plant, which employs 170 persons, has been running full time.

SPRINGFIELD, March 17.—Dr. Clarence M. Sweet, one of the best known homoeopathic physicians in this part of the state, died suddenly today of apoplexy.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The house today granted authority to its military affairs committee to visit the government's Muscle Shoals properties. An appropriation of $2000 for the trip was unanimously voted.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Anthracite operators today notified mine workers that a deferral in the cost of production was impossible and that the adjustment of wage rates was the first necessary step in reducing the cost to the consumer and insuring continued stability of the industry.

Amsterdam, Holland, has more than 300 bridges.

$1,755,597, of the $350,000,000 total of our national wealth.

Each of these soldiers is at the present time protecting some 25 square miles of territory of our mainland and dependencies and with giving $48 of our people a guarantee against foreign interference with their constitutional rights in their pursuit of health, happiness and lawful gain. All this at a cost of $3 per capita of population.

The army appropriation bill, which until a year ago was drafted annually by the committee of which Mr. Kahn is chairman, was framed under the new rules of the house, by a sub-committee of five members of the appropriations committee headed by Representative Anthony, republican.

LOWELL BOYS HONORED

Three Lowell Students Honored at B. U. College of Business Administration

Three students from Lowell have been signally honored for their prominent part in college activities of Boston University, College of Business Administration. They are Robert Roy MacLeod, Royal H. Dexter, and Earl P. Leadbetter. These young men have been chosen members of the Skull, an honorary society at their college for those who have been the most prominent in college affairs.

Mr. Earl P. Leadbetter has been particularly prominent, having held several important positions during his college career. During his freshman year he was chosen manager of the C. B. A. Glee club. In his sophomore year he served on the dance committee, on his class executive committee, on the sophomore freshman dance committee, and was chosen as a delegate to the house of representatives of C. B. A. In his junior year he was re-elected a delegate to the house of representatives, served on the syllabus nominating committee, filled the position of clerk of the house of representatives, was athletic editor on the syllabus, the C. B. A. year book, served on the university endorsement drive committee, and was leader of the Boston University Glee club.

In spite of his versatility, Mr. Leadbetter is surprisingly modest of a record of which both his home and college may well be proud.

WILL ADDRESS LOWELL AD CLUB

John J. Morgan, of the Morgan Advertising Agency, Boston, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Lowell Ad club, to be held in the quarters of the club, 100 State street, next Wednesday evening. Supper will be served promptly at 6.30 p. m. and Mr. Morgan's talk will follow.

The meeting is to be held in the evening rather than during the noon hour, which has been the customary time, because it is felt that a better opportunity will be afforded for a large gathering of advertising men and women to hear the speaker.

Mr. Morgan, a recognized expert, will speak on "The Text of the Advertisement." The writing of copy and the manner of display will be discussed, and additional interest will be given the talk by the showing of standard examples.

The meeting is open to all who care to attend, and reservations should be made before Wednesday noon. Address Secretary Edward W. Gallagher, of the chamber of commerce is in charge of reservations, and may be reached by telephone 180.

LIQUOR SQUAD WAS ACTIVE LAST NIGHT

The liquor and vice squad was extremely active last night, making three successful raids. A near-by saloon in Cabot street, owned by Thomas O. Belme, was raided, and according to the officers, Belme was caught in the act of selling from the person. The officers claim that Belme admitted his guilt when two half-pints of pure alcohol and marked money were found on his person. He appeared in court this morning and his case was continued to April 1.

The officers made a seizure in the home of Stavros Sincelakis, 213 Adams street, after a great deal of searching. According to the raiders they found a 120 gallon still in operation. In a room, under a bed, a trap door was discovered. A search revealed nearly 20 quarts of alleged moonshine. The defendant appeared in court this morning and had his case continued to April 1.

The raiders seized 12 gallons of alleged moonshine in a vacant cellar at 470 Market street. As yet no one has been connected with the ownership of it.

LOCAL STRIKE SITUATION

Generous Contributions Received at Mill Gates by Authorized Solicitors

There is no change in the local strike situation. The Day State Cotton Corp. is still operating as it has since the loomsters and weavers quit their work, while the Hamilton Mfg. Co. is keeping its small crew of operatives at work finishing out work that had been left on the machine, and manufacturing samples. Pickets were on duty at both mills this morning and noon, and everything went along without any disturbance or trouble.

A group of young women equipped with boxes and wearing sashes over their shoulders as a credential from the strike committee visited several mill gates at 11.30 o'clock and it is said the donations on the part of the operatives who are still at work in other plants were very liberal.

General Organizer Thomas J. Reagan of the United Textile Workers of America, who with John Hanley, president of the Lowell Textile council, are conducting the local strike, is in Ware, where he is conducting a series of meetings for the purpose of organizing the operatives of the mills, where strikes are on. It was also learned that Agent Fred M. Knight of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, will visit Ware next week for the purpose of conferring with a special committee appointed by the officials of the O. T. Co., and a committee of strikers in an endeavor to settle the grievances, which have started in the weaving department of the mill, and which have resulted in a strike. It is expected that the labor troubles in that city will soon be brought to an end.

An important conference is scheduled to be held in Boston tomorrow, Secretary-Manager Sarah A. Conboy, Vice President Sayer and Organizer J. M. Powers, all of the United Textile Workers of America, who will meet at the Parker house to discuss the important phases concerning the textile strike in Rhode Island, Lowell and Manchester, N. H. It is believed that some plans will be devised at the conference in an endeavor to bring all labor troubles in New England to a successful end. Lowell will not be represented at the conference, but the strike committee of this city will be informed of the results of the meeting, in the early part of the week.

DELAY NEGOTIATIONS BIGGER BUSINESS HERE

Arbitration Committee of Armour and Co. Will Do Coal Miners and Operators Cuts Margin of Safety

NEW YORK, March 18.—The arbitration committee of anthracite coal miners and operators, charged with the task of negotiating a wage agreement in time to avert a suspension of the mines April 1, today reduced their "margin of safety" to 10 days by deciding to delay their first session until next Tuesday.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, a member of the committee of eight, announced that the delay was due to a desire of labor men to consult their organizations and amass data concerning the wage-controversy before opening the conference. It is generally agreed that the terms of a new contract cannot possibly be drawn and agreed upon within the 10 days.

Operators expressed a belief that the new agreement would be drawn and effective before the consuming public begins to feel a coal shortage, as the supplies on hand would be sufficient for a considerably longer period.

LOCAL OBSERVANCE OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Although no great outdoor display marked yesterday's observance of St. Patrick's day, a fact deemed fortunate by many on account of the cold weather, the saint's birthday was well celebrated by many entertainments throughout the city. Beginning with special masses in all the Catholic churches yesterday morning, the festivity was brought to a close, so far as the religious aspect was concerned, by fitting observances last evening.

At St. Patrick's church last evening, Rev. Francis L. Keenan delivered an eloquent panegyric on the life and works of Ireland's apostle. Going back to the days of St. Patrick's youth, late in the fourth century, he traced his progress through the years. His work in converting the Gaelic race to Christianity, making its members ardent followers of the faith, willing to devote their lives in preaching the Gospel throughout Europe, and handing down to their descendants that firm belief in its principles which has sustained them throughout the years of oppression, was magnificently portrayed.

Among the notable facts recited by Fr. Keenan was the statement that St. Patrick, during his life among the Irish people, consecrated 350 Bishops and ordained 1000 priests.

The social program was quite elaborate. In the Sacred Heart school hall last night one of the best programs was presented. Rev. Henry R. Burns, O.M.I., an excellent speaker and pupil orator, addressed the audience on "The Needs of Religion and Religious Education for the Republican Form of Government." Discussion of Irish problems was not undertaken by Fr. Burns as he said it would not be tactful at the present time with so many and varied shades of opinion expressed by followers of the cause. An Irish concert preceded the talk by Fr. Burns, with many of the city's best singers participating. The concert was arranged by John J. Kelly, who acted as accompanist for the musical numbers. Father Mullane made a capable interlocutor.

The program follows:
Song, The Harp That Once "Through Tara's Halls."
Lycium Quartet
Song, Little Town in the Old County Down.
Song, Johnnie Macbree.
Mrs. Irene W. Harkins.
Piano solo, Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms.
Miss Veronica R. Barr.
Song, The Last Rose of Summer.
Miss Kathleen M. Jennings.
Song, An Irish Love Song.
Timothy J. Finnegan.
Song, I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen.
Mrs. Mary Monroe Mooney.
Assisted by Lycium Quartet.
Song, Hail Glorious Apsle, Entire Company.

The members of the Lycium quartet were as follows: Mrs. Mary Monroe Mooney, soprano; Miss Sadie H. Carr, alto; John H. McMahon, tenor and George A. Kilwin, bass.

The Irish National Brotherhood celebrated the day with a whist party and social at the Middle street quarters of the association. All who attended found the evening an enjoyable occasion, due to the activities of those in charge, of whom Thomas McGee was chairman.

The Lowell Gaelic Athletic association held a celebration in the form of a dancing party and ladies' night in their rooms in Central street. Irish music and Irish dances proved a medium of excellent entertainment.

A dance and ladies' night, largely attended and altogether enjoyable, was the B.K.K.'s contribution to the evening's social program.

The Burke Temperance Institute conducted its annual dance in Association hall, with a large crowd of dancers present to enjoy the long program. The Y.M.C.I. entertained a number of its friends with a dance in its Stockpole street quarters.

$50,000 Worth of Liquor On Palatial Yacht Seized

505 CASES OF LIQUOR HELD

Customs Officials Raid Yacht
Tied Up at Miami,
Florida

Edwin S. Shewan, Brother of Owner, Wires Protest to
Atty. Gen. Daugherty

War Against Rum Runners
on Niagara River

MIAMI, Fla., March 18.—Customs officials today seized 505 cases of fine wines and liquors aboard the Palatial, a palatial yacht tied up here. The liquor was estimated by officials to be worth $50,000.

The yacht, it was later ascertained, is owned by James Shewan, and when the officers boarded the yacht Edwin S. Shewan, brother of the owner, rushed to a telephone office and wired Atty. Gen. Daugherty to order the release of the cargo.

Shewan claims the liquor is the same seized at San Francisco a year ago by prohibition officials but which was returned to him as liquor purchased before the federal prohibition amendment became effective.

War on Rum Runners
BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18.—Prohibition enforcement agents cruising in swift motor boats and armed with rifles will soon wage war against rum runners on the Niagara river from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario. Organization of the force began today with the arrival of John F. Parsons, chief of the prohibition forces for New York.

Piggery a Distillery
KANSAS, Pa., March 18.—Federal agents who raided a piggery on the outskirts of the city today declared they found the place to be a well equipped distillery. Garbage gathered from the piggery was used to make whiskey and not into hog troughs, they reported.

Fifty gallons of garbage distilled whiskey were seized, with nearly 100 gallons of prepared mash.

MANCHESTER MEETING

Lowell Will Be Represented at Meeting of N. E. Textile Workers' Conference

The New England Textile Workers' Conference board composed of representatives of textile unions of Lowell, Lawrence, Manchester, N. H. and Maynard, will hold a meeting in Manchester, N. H., tomorrow afternoon. It is expected that the following Lowell people will attend: John Hanley, Louis J. Shea and Albert Angus, president, vice president and secretary respectively of the Lowell Textile council; Alfred Labele, Ring Spinner Fixers' union; Austin Kennedy, Woolen Spinners; Walter Roche, Beamers; Shua Hart, Sashers; Wendell Walter McLaughlin, Folders; Joseph Lemery, Loomfixers; Frank Balasa, Polish Textile council; Mrs. Annie Reagan, Cotton Weavers and J. Holden, Woolen Weavers. This meeting has no connection whatever with the textile strike in this city and other textile centers of New England.

Gandhi, Indian Non-Cooperationist Leader, Given Six Years' Sentence

MOHANDAS K. GANDHI

AHMEDABAD, British India, March 18. (By the Associated Press).—Mohandas K. Gandhi, the Indian non-cooperationist leader, who was arrested recently on charges of sedition, was sentenced today to six years imprisonment without hard labor.

Lawrence Duck Co. May Move to South
LAWRENCE, March 18.—The Lawrence Duck Co., employing about 500 may be moved to the south, it was learned today. Treasurer William L. Barrell admitted that such a thing was being considered and said that cotton duck could not be made profitably in this state where there are but 48 working hours weekly in competition with the 60-hour week in the south.

STRIKE LEADERS IN CONFERENCE
Emergency Board of Textile Workers Hold Secret Session in Boston

Discuss Finances Necessary
For "Prolonged Continuation of Textile Strike"

BOSTON, March 18.—The emergency board of the United Textile Workers of America met here today to consider the New England textile situation. President Thomas M. McMahon and Organizer John Powers, came from Rhode Island strike areas for the conference. Vice President James Starr, who is directing the strike in New Hampshire, and Mrs. Sara A. Conboy, secretary-treasurer of the United Textile Workers, attended the conference.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing finances necessary for a "prolonged continuation of the textile strike." President McMahon said. Its sessions were secret. A proposal has been made by the Rhode Island board of conciliation and mediation that the strikers consider accepting some degree of wage reduction in view of the fact that passage of the 48 hour law in that state is virtually assured. Mr. McMahon said. The proposal was under consideration he indicated but he added that it was doubtful if any formal statement on the matter would be made.

Immediately following the meeting, Vice President Starr arranged to confer with several Bostonians who have offered to aid in the raising of funds for relief of the New Hampshire strikers.

Republican House Leaders to Confer With President at White House Tomorrow

Hopeful of Obtaining Approval of Plan for Passage
Under Suspension of Rules

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Republican house leaders expected to confer with President Harding at the White House tomorrow night regarding procedure in handling the compromise soldiers' bonus bill. They are hopeful that he will approve their plan for passage of the measure under a suspension of the rules.

Several of the leaders were in conference early today with Speaker Gillett and arrangements were made for him to meet majority members of the ways and means committee and other republicans later to discuss the question of procedure. Mr. Gillett said he still was open to argument and added that he might not arrive at a decision today.

Leaders do not look with favor on a plan for a party conference at least until they have talked with the president. They expect to obtain the president's views on the compromise bill tomorrow.

It was indicated that if the bill were taken up Monday the debate would continue for two days under a special rule temporarily setting aside the rule limiting discussion under suspension of the rules to 40 minutes.

nounces Increase in Cost
of Wife Beating

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The cost of wife beating is going to be higher in San Francisco from now on, according to Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham. After fining a man $500 yesterday for applying a lighted match to his wife's arm, he announced that black eyes hereafter would cost $250 each instead of $150, as heretofore, and that kicks would be raised from $150 each to $250 and blows from $50 to $100.

LIQUOR PERMITS OF 100 DRUGGISTS CANCELLED

CHICAGO, March 18.—Liquor permits of 100 Chicago druggists were declared forfeited today by Charles A. Gregory, prohibition director, as a result of reported sale of liquor on fraudulent prescriptions.

The prohibition director said that a check-up showed that thousands of liquor prescriptions used in Chicago were forged and that in many cases the druggists not only manufactured their whiskey but also manufactured the prescriptions.

Tells Mayor He Has Not Performed as a Vet-

Continue the Controversy

Counter accusations of playing politics and demands for apologies were hurled across the mayor's office at city hall this noon during a battle of words between Mayor George H. Brown and Commander Stephen C. Garrity of the local American Legion post, that more than once seemed to arrive perilously near the breaking point.

Commander Garrity was backed up in his accusations and arguments by John J. Walsh, historian of Lowell post and a member of the executive committee.

The two veterans called upon the mayor, following the delivery to him of a letter from the executive committee of Lowell post, protesting against the appointment of any but veterans to the staff of the Memorial auditorium, either temporarily or permanently. Particular stress was placed upon the alleged appointment by the mayor of Paul O'Dowd, as a clerk of records, who is not a veteran.

Commander Garrity inquired specifically as to the report that a local organization had been promised a date in the auditorium prior to the dedicatory exercises. This the mayor denied, saying that the date in question was contingent upon whether or not the building was accepted by the city at that particular time.

Speaking of the employment of Mr. O'Dowd, Commander Garrity asked if he is any more qualified for the position than any of 7700 Lowell veterans.

The mayor replied that Mr. O'Dowd was his choice and he would recommend his permanent employment to the board of trustees when selected.

"He is a friend of mine and also is well fitted to fill the office," said the mayor, and added, "you can't change me on that matter if you argue it all day."

"You told me a while ago," said Commander Garrity, "that you owed a political debt to Mr. O'Dowd, that you had used his automobile and was obligated to him."

"Does that have any effect upon his qualifications for the position?" asked the mayor.

"It certainly does," said the legion historian.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT AMENDMENT TO PACIFIC PACT

Docket Crowded Again With
Involving Liquor

The police court docket was crowded again today with liquor violation cases, 11 being listed for trial. Added to this liquor list were nine cases of drunkenness and several other cases of minor importance. The liquor cases were drawn out as a rule and were painstakingly tried but stiff fines were imposed in nearly every case.

A point of law was raised in the case of Lowell v. State.

Transport Cambrai to Arrive
March 30 With Last of Bodies to Be Brought Home

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Special honors will mark the arrival in New York March 30 of the transport Cambrai, carrying the last of the bodies of American soldiers killed in France to be returned for burial at home. Major General Bullard, commanding the second corps area, will be in charge of the ceremonies, in which the garrisons in New York and vicinity will participate.

The navy department has been invited to take part in the services. There are approximately 1200 bodies on the Cambrai, bringing the total number of those who died or were killed in action in France and whose bodies have been brought home for burial up to 45,712. American dead who lie in the fields of honor in France number 31,377.

Of the total number of bodies already returned to the United States the great majority have been buried in private cemeteries; only 5718 having been buried in the national cemeteries.

SHIN BONE REPLACES DISEASED SPINE BONE

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—An operation in which five inches of shinbone were cut from the leg of a four-year boy to replace five inches of his spine bone was performed in a hospital here today.

The patient, George Hawkins, was brought from his home at Concord, Mass., by his parents. He is paralyzed from the hips down.

The operation took an hour and 20 minutes. The piece of backbone removed was diseased and is said to have caused the paralysis. It was not necessary to put a plate in the boy's leg as the surgeons said that because of his age the shin bone will grow in such a way to replace the portion removed.

Youth Sentenced For Manslaughter

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Ollie Cowell, 13 years old, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter by a jury here yesterday and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for the death of James Gant, 18, who died as the result of a knife wound received in a fight with Cowell over a basketball game last February.

Fell Asleep While Smoking, Dies of Burns

BOSTON, March 18.—Harry Haight, 40 years old, of Newark, N. J., died at the City hospital early today as a result of burns received in a room at a hotel here. Hotel attendants found him unconscious in a reclining chair with his clothing and the upholstery of the chair on fire. Police believe that Haight fell asleep while smoking. He was a supervisor for the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

HELD ST. PATRICK'S

DAY ENTERTAINMENT

The Father Mathew Total Abstinence society of North Billerica conducted its annual St. Patrick's day entertainment last evening and the affair was pronounced by many the best of its kind conducted in a long time. The entertainment, which was followed by general dancing, was held in Thomas Talbot Memorial hall and was largely attended, a large number of guests being in attendance from this city.

The evening's entertainment consisted of a minstrel show and it proved a source of great merriment, for the participants were not at their debut and they were there with up-to-date jokes.

Including several on residents of the town.

J. Frank Mullen was the interlocutor and the soloists were: Edward Donohue, Martin Maguire, Miss Doris Conley, John Doyle, James Walker, James H. Gannon, Edward Barton, William H. Hinchey and F. Boyle. The end performers were Edward Gannon, Miss May Hewson, Miss Ethel Winslow, Miss Dorothy Nolan and Ted Robarge. The program was as follows: Open chorus: Solo, "Little Town in the Old County Down," Edward Donohue; end song, "Dapper Dan," Edward Gannon; solo, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Martin Maguire; solo and dance, "I'm Tied to Death That You're Irish," Miss Doris Conley; end song, "The Wedding Ring Don't Mean a Thing When You're Married," Miss May Hewson; solo, "Molly-O," John Doyle; solo and dance, "You're the Sweetest Little Girl I Ever Knew," James Walker; end song, "I Wanna," Miss Ethel Winslow; solo, selected, James Gannon; solo, "Mickey O'Neil," Miss Dorothy Nolan; end song, "Which Hazel," Ted Robarge; solo, selected, Edward Barton; solo, "Laddy Buck of Mine," William Hinchey; finale, "Leave Me With a Smile," solo by F. Boyle, assisted by chorus.

The lecture is to be given under the auspices of the university extension.

ANNUAL DEBATE OF WOMEN'S COLLEGES

BOSTON, March 18.—The annual women's intercollegiate debate with Wellesley, Vassar, Smith, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe and Barnard as the participants, will take place tonight. The subject will be "Resolved, that the United States should grant immediate independence to the Philippines." The teams will oppose each other at the several colleges as follows, the affirmative in each case being debated at home:

At Cambridge, Radcliffe and Smith; at Wellesley, Wellesley and Radcliffe; at South Hadley, Mount Holyoke and Wellesley; at New York, Barnard and Vassar; at Poughkeepsie, Vassar and Mount Holyoke; at Northampton, Smith and Barnard.

Man Carrying Bomb Dies in Imperial Palace Grounds at Tokio

TOKIO, Mar. 17.—(By the Associated Press) A man dressed as a coolie gained entrance to the Imperial palace grounds at noon today (Friday) and threw a bomb to the ground, the explosion killing him. On his clothing was found a document criticizing the government and declaring the writer's intention to commit suicide. He was identified as a minor, recently arrived from Manchuria.

The man gained entrance to the ground by threatening the guards at the double bridge leading to the palace shouting: "It is dangerous to approach me." At the main gate other guards made to stop him, whereupon he threw the missile at his feet.

IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION The improvement association of ward 5, precinct 2, held another interesting meeting at the Manhattan club on Thursday night and discussed plans to bring about improvements in that district. The members are particularly anxious to have Manchester street extended to the Boston road, feeling that the change would be of great benefit not only to those in the neighborhood but the public in general.

IN CHELMSFORD CENTRE

St. Patrick's Day Observance by Catholic Club—Girl Scouts Meet

There was a large attendance at the entertainment and dance held last evening in the Chelmsford Centre town hall by the members of the Chelmsford Catholic club in observance of St. Patrick's day. The decorations were beautiful, consisting of national colors and flags of the Irish Free State, while the background of the stage was taken up with a large picture of St. Patrick, draped with green and American colors.

In the early part of the evening the following numbers, which proved very entertaining, were given: Ellghland King, Elizabeth Perry; sketch, Paul and Mary Donehue; specialty dance, Baby Ellen Sullivan; miduet, Peggy Regan and John Clark; step-along dance, Doris Clark; dance D'Amour, Marion and Anna Barrett; novelty dance, Doris Sheoley; Irish jig, Edna and Harold Lalley; "Dawn On the Irish Coast," by John Locke; reading, Miss Catherine Green; song, "That's How I Believe in You," Catherine Mullin. The entertainment program was in charge of Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland and the dancing numbers were under the direction of Miss Doris Conley, assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. V. Conley.

At the close of the entertainment general dancing was started and continued till a reasonable hour. During intermission refreshments were served in the lower hall. The committee of arrangements included Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland, Mrs. R. C. Hazeltine, Miss Catherine Green, assisted by Mrs. Edward Kemp, Mrs. Ernest DeKalb, Mrs. Henry L. Cote, Mrs. J. J. Green, Mrs. Francis DeKalb, Miss Charlotte Kemp. The refreshment committee was made up as follows: Mrs. J. B. Noel, chairman, Mrs. William Gaudette, Mrs. Joseph Kemp, Mrs. Ernest DeKalb, McKinley Blood acted as floor director, assisted by Stillman Kneeland.

Girl Scouts Meet First class scout badges were conferred upon Scouts Thelma Shattuck and Marjorie B. Scoboria at a meeting of the Chelmsford Girl Scouts held yesterday afternoon in the Centre village. In the course of the meeting merit badges were awarded to Scouts Barbara A. Parkhurst, Julia Warren and Thelma Shattuck. A report of the organization was given, showing the excellent work, which the scouts are doing. New members were admitted into the troop and Scout Florence Ellis was elected second lieutenant.

Successful Food Sale The women of the Central Congregational church conducted a successful food sale on the piazza at the home of Mrs. A. L. Dunham yesterday afternoon. This was an ideal place for such an event, as the piazza is enclosed with glass and heated. The amount realized through the sale was very substantial and the following members of the committee, who were in charge of the sale, were warmly congratulated for the success achieved: Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Allen Gould, Mrs. A. C. Perham, Mrs. Clarence Stevens and Mrs. Paul Dutton.

DRY AGENT DROPPED

McGray, Who Swore Out Affidavit in Quincy House Raid, Suspended

BOSTON, March 18.—Prohibition Agent William H. McGray of Somerville, who swore out the affidavit which enabled former dry chief Harold D. Wilson to secure the warrant used in the Quincy House raid on Dec. 20 last, has been indefinitely suspended by secret orders from Washington, state prohibition Director Potter said last night. James P. Roberts, who succeeded Wilson, said he did not know why McGray had been suspended but that it was not for anything he had done since Roberts took office. McGray was said to be the most active agent in the raid on a room at the Quincy House when Governor Cox and Director Potter were attending a banquet in another part of the hotel.

R. I. SENATE DELAYS 48-HOUR BILL

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 18.—Prospects of immediate passage of a 48-hour law by the Rhode Island legislature were shattered yesterday when the Lavender bill passed by the judiciary committee of the senate. Proponents of the bill urged that the measure be placed on the calendar for immediate action, but the senate by a vote of 28 to 5, sent it to committee. Three bills involving hours of labor are now before the senate judiciary committee. In addition to the Lavender bill, providing for a 48-hour working week for women and minors, but permitting a 62-hour maximum for these classes of workers in "seasonal occupations," there is a senate measure, the so-called Noel bill, very similar in terms. This bill is the Berry bill which provides for a general 48-hour week.

While strike leaders yesterday openly prophesied defeat of the Lavender bill in the senate, the state board of mediation was relying on the prospect of 48-hour legislation for an hour's respite from the textile strike. Heads of the Amalgamated Textile Workers, the organization of textile operatives in the Pawtuxet valley, and of the United Textile Workers, whose stronghold is in the Blackstone valley, were asked by representatives of the board whether they would be willing to make concessions on the wages issue, in the event that the legislature passed a 48-hour law.

NO RECONCILIATION, SAYS PRIMA DONNA

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—Madame Margaret Matzenauer, prima donna, today told the Associated Press that she gave no credence to a statement made in Del Monte, Cal., by her chauffeur husband, Floyd Glatzsch, that he had no part in the recent publicity incident to their marital affairs.

"Surely the newspapers wouldn't 'make up' the interviews in which the prima donna said she had the 'rough stock of the world,'" she said.

Commenting on a despatch from San Francisco, that Glatzsch's mother and stepfather had sided with the prima donna, she said:

"Surely they sided with me. They always did. About a month ago my mother visited me in my New York apartment, and tried to bring about a reconciliation. But, there will be no reconciliation, you can put that down."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Mrs. Charles Glatzsch, wife of the mother of Floyd Glatzsch, chauffeur husband of Madame Matzenauer, last night said she had accepted the prima donna as her daughter. The chauffeur's stepfather, Charles Howland, also sided with Madame Matzenauer, stating that "there had been no ill will, that which could easily have been fixed up."

C. M. A. C. BASEBALL TEAM MANAGER

At a meeting of the members of the C. M. A. C. team which was held in the rooms of the organization in Pawtucket street last evening, William Marzotto was unanimously chosen manager of the team for the coming season. The team for the season were outlined and it was announced that within a short time or as soon as the ground is in condition, practice will be held on the Lowell Textile school campus. The manager of the team issues an appeal to all baseball players in Lowell, and to the members of the team to give the team the number who will apply for membership on the team. The best players will be picked out as regulars.

A meeting of the literary club of the association will be held in the reading room of the club building in Pawtucket street Monday night and it is expected that the members will be present to give the members of the club a public lecture, which will be held soon after Easter.

R. I. STATE BOARD TO MEET MONDAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 18.—The state board of mediation and conciliation, which was scheduled to meet at noon today to consider its third proposal for settlement of the Rhode Island textile strike, will not meet until Monday. It was announced at the state house this morning.

The proposal which the board is submitting to mill owners and strike leaders, is a compromise based on the passage by the lower branch of the legislature of the Lavender bill, providing for a 48-hour week for women and minors in industry.

Interest in the textile strike situation of Rhode Island shifted today to Boston, where the emergency board of the United Textile Workers was in session discussing strike policy in this state and in New England generally. Both the Pawtuxet and Blackstone valleys were quiet this morning. Picketing at all plants affected by the strike was unusually light.

SUITS BROUGHT BY PONZI TRUSTEES DISMISSED

BOSTON, March 18.—Federal Judge George W. Anderson dismissed in United States equity court today, six suits brought by the trustees of Charles Ponzi, the postal coupon financier, to recover from Ponzi investors the amount of the money they invested with him and without which profit.

Judge Anderson found that the money obtained from the Ponzi investors were treated as a trust fund, that they were deposited in a trust company here, and were paid back by check on the bank and never became the property of Ponzi.

Ponzi was adjudicated a bankrupt October 2, 1920, said Judge Anderson. "It follows that the year allowed under the bankruptcy act for proving of claims expired October 25, 1921. It is therefore obvious that if the defendants, and others in like plight, are held to pay to the plaintiff and without which profit, they cannot hereafter prove their claims and share pro rata with other victims whose claims have already been proved and allowed."

Gandhi Sentenced

A half-starved ascetic. A reputed worker of miracles. Gandhi is a small, emaciated man, insignificant in appearance. His skin is brown, his sunken eyes gray, his hands slim like those of an artist. He dresses always in native home-made, never wears shoes. He travels invariably third-class.

He fasts frequently and long. This gives him the appearance of a starving man. He always cooks his own meals and never eats meat.

Gandhi was born Nov. 11, 1869, in the Bombay presidency. His father, a political ally from his father, was a member of the trading caste, who 24 years was chief minister of state or diwan for Porbandar.

After having finished the usual Hindu religious and classical studies, Gandhi took up law and went to London to complete his legal training. Then he returned to India to practice his profession.

The young lawyer first leaped into prominence in labor troubles between Hindu and European workers in Natal, South Africa.

Gandhi rushed to South Africa, defended his countrymen in court and became their leader. He was imprisoned several times.

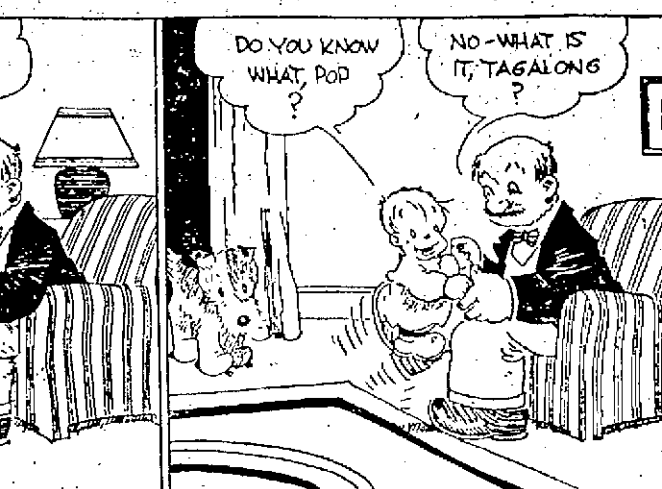

Reflection in prison brought the birth of Gandhi's passive resistance theory. Returning to India, he began urging the people to put this theory into operation.

His theory holds that the best way to oust the British from India is to ignore their existence.

Natives should not occupy office under the British. They should not take cases into British courts.

They should keep their children out of British schools. They should refuse to enter British employ.

Disquieting Conditions Along Frontier Between Southern Ireland and Ulster

DUBLIN, March 18. (By the Associated Press).—Disquieting conditions still prevail along the frontier between Southern Ireland and Ulster. A message from Clones today said three of the principal bridges within a radius of 20 miles of Clones, on the northern frontier, had been blown up, cutting communications between Clones, Fermanagh and Cavan. A stretch of road along the northern frontier between Clones and Cavan also has been blown up.

MURDER OF BRUNEN STILL A MYSTERY

RIVERSIDE, N. J., March 18.—Authorities investigating the death of John T. Brunen, circus proprietor, shot and killed in his home a week ago yesterday, today were apparently as far from a solution of the slaying as when they began their investigation.

One man remains to be questioned, County Detective Ellis Parker said today. He is Paul Purcell, a concessionaire, who was with Brunen's shows last season. Purcell has been found at Paterson, N. J., Parker stated, and has been requested to go to Mount Holly for questioning by Prosecutor Kelsey.

According to Parker, Purcell was ordered from the circus lot in mid-season, following a quarrel with Brunen. Two men, George L. Werner, circus chief, and Joseph R. "Doc" Ward, Babylon man, yesterday were exonerated by authorities from any connection in the case. Last night, Detective Parker spent some time questioning a man in the jail at Norristown, Pa., who said he knew Brunen intimately, but the detective said he was unable to learn anything that had not been divulged.

TRACK AND FIELD SPORTS FOR WOMEN

BOSTON, March 18.—Track and field sports for women in this country will be recognized and supervised by the Amateur Athletics Union within a year or two, William C. Prout, president of the A.A.U., said today. Events for women of track and field will be included in the 1923 Olympic games, he added.

Officials of the A.A.U. were approached recently in the interests of women in sports by directors of the women's track committee headed by Harry E. Stewart of New Haven, Conn., and plans for making the latter a body subsidiary to the A.A.U. are now under consideration. President Prout said there was little doubt that the action would be taken, and that the committee then would conduct track and field competitions as swimming events for women are now conducted.

Candidate For Senate

SPRINGFIELD, March 18.—A. Paul Connor, of this city, leading spirit and organizer of the Common People, Inc., is a lawyer and civil engineer. Several months ago he brought about a hearing before a legislative committee on conditions that he alleged existed in the Hampden county training school. Though Mr. Connor's charges were not in the main sustained by the committee some changes have since been made in the methods of management as the result of the committee's recommendations. He has come into some prominence through his thus far unsuccessful efforts to obtain the release from the county school of a Springfield boy, Michael Ring, who, he asserted, has been mistreated and deprived of his rights. He recently has taken the case to the state supreme court and has referred to District Attorney C. H. Wright.

Mr. Connor this week announced his candidacy for the state senate.

commander, "as far as veterans are concerned."

"I am a veteran," stated the mayor, "100 per cent. a veteran and I tell you, gentlemen, right here and now, the veterans have been well treated since I came into office. You have no right to come here and criticize until you have a grievance."

"We have a grievance, Mr. Mayor," answered Commander Garrity, "and if you are a veteran you haven't performed as one. The first thing you did after getting into office was to bring suffering and discomfort to 12 veterans who were on the fire department."

"What is not so?" replied the mayor, "the state laws governed me in that case."

"You are playing politics, Mr. Garrity, in this matter," continued the mayor and are sacrificing other service men in Lowell to suit your own selfish ends."

"I won't stand for that," snapped Commander Garrity, "You are the politician, Lowell's political mayor. We have tried to get satisfaction from you in a number of things, but without result."

Reverting to the setting of a date at the auditorium for some organization prior to dedication, Mr. Walsh said that when the chairman of the commission spoke before the city council, he stated at that time that it would be impossible to have the building ready to turn over to the city before May 30.

"And yet," said Mr. Walsh, "we have definite proof that a local organization has either the date of May 14 or 21 and actually is making reservations for tickets."

"If something has transpired since the commission chairman talks before the council, so that the date of opening has been changed," said Mr. Walsh, "then we have not been given the courtesy of being told, but, evidently, some other organization has been advised of it."

Mackenzie's Appointment

Mr. Walsh said that the veterans were glad to see that the mayor has temporarily appointed Mr. Mackenzie as chairman of the building, as he is a member of Lowell post, but he did not justify Mr. O'Dowd's appointment.

"Mr. O'Dowd is not working at present," said Mr. Walsh, "returning to the setting of a date at the auditorium for some organization prior to dedication, Mr. Walsh said that when the chairman of the commission spoke before the city council, he stated at that time that it would be impossible to have the building ready to turn over to the city before May 30.

"And yet," said Mr. Walsh, "we have definite proof that a local organization has either the date of May 14 or 21 and actually is making reservations for tickets."

"If something has transpired since the commission chairman talks before the council, so that the date of opening has been changed," said Mr. Walsh, "then we have not been given the courtesy of being told, but, evidently, some other organization has been advised of it."

Mr. Walsh said that the veterans were glad to see that the mayor has temporarily appointed Mr. Mackenzie as chairman of the building, as he is a member of Lowell post, but he did not justify Mr. O'Dowd's appointment.

"Mr. O'Dowd is not working at present," said Mr. Walsh, "replied the mayor, "but I'm going to command him. I want it understood that I want a man in that position I can trust."

"Don't you know any service men you can trust?" asked Commander Garrity.

"You don't understand my position in the matter," said the mayor. "Oh, yes we do, all too well, replied Messrs. Garrity and Walsh together."

"Do you object to just one man working there who is not a veteran?" asked the mayor.

"One man or 100, it is just the same," replied the commander.

"Why, if it wasn't for the veterans that building that Mr. O'Dowd is going to work in, wouldn't be there at all," declared Mr. Walsh.

"You are both playing politics," reiterated the mayor.

"Will you come over to the meeting of the post here Monday night and say that to the veterans?" asked Mr. Walsh. "That is an invitation, will you accept it?"

"I don't want to continue the argument here or anywhere else," said the mayor.

"You come over and say that and it will cost you money, Mr. Mayor," said Mr. Walsh.

"You both played politics in the campaign last fall," said Mayor Brown.

"We were not with you, if that is what you mean," was the reply.

"No, of course you were not with me, and I am glad you weren't," said the mayor.

"So are we," the service men replied.

Before they left the mayor's office, Commander Garrity left with the mayor a copy of the constitution of Lowell post, pointing out the part of it that says the post is a civilian organization, not military. The mayor also was given a letter, signed by Commander Garrity, which requested the use of the auditorium by the legion on the first two nights next following the formal dedication and acceptance by the city, whenever that ceremony takes place.

MRS. BURKETT LOSES

No Injustice Done Says Indiana Governor

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18.—Though imprisoned for attempting to defraud Theodore Roosevelt's estate out of $60,000 Mrs. Emma Burkett, of Hillsdale, Ind., has reached the ears of two governors in protesting her innocence, but her plea will be in vain, Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana announced yesterday.

Recently Gov. McCray had received a letter signed "Guy Covey" who said he forged the note and used "In the name of justice" that he seek Mrs. Burkett's freedom. The governor said he referred it to Gov. Miller of New York and had been informed that Mr. Burkett had smuggled the letter from her cell after writing it and had sent it to the Indiana governor.

Gov. Miller said he had written Gov. Miller expressing the belief that no injustice was being done Mrs. Burkett.

"I do not believe any injustice is being done her," he said, referring to the imprisonment under a charge of having forged Mr. Roosevelt's name to a note which was presented for collection after his death. Later she was convicted and imprisoned in New York.

ARMY BANKS ON NEW BALLOON TO CLEAR DIRIGIBLES' NAME

By N.E.A. Service

DATTON, O., March 17.—Army experts hope that a new army balloon, not yet christened, will not only escape the fate of the Roma, but will prove the practical value of a dirigible balloon, given a great setback by the Roma disaster.

The new balloon was built at Akron, O., for the war department. It soon will be brought to McCook field here to be put through its paces. On a short trip recently the ship lived up to all expectations.

This new craft has many new features not found in any other air craft in the United States.

Clear-Shaped Ding

The slitten box is clear-shaped and has a gas capacity of 108,000 cubic feet. It is 170 feet long and 40 feet in diameter.

Attached to the envelope is an electrically enclosed cabin, equipped with windows. In it is the power plant, consisting of two aero-marine engines connected with the propellers by means of gears.

This innovation makes it possible to drive the big ship forward or backward.

In the cabin are sleeping quarters for the crew and a kitchenette from which a lunch or a regular meal may be served.

This Brand New Hit Depicts Bored America at a Banquet

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK, March 18.—The man in Texas may like his hot tamale, but the man in New York likes his cold turkey. And it is the common denominator—the latest of American industry—that the man in New York likes his cold turkey. But it never had been properly cooked on until George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, authors of "Dulcy," added to score another success. So they wrote another comedy, put Helen Hayes and Otto Kruger in the lead roles and moved into a theatre a dozen miles from Broadway. Despite a huge dose of Shavian wit, the play "Back to Methuselah" the latest satirization in New York is "To Ladies." It is frothy, yet deep, it is good fooling, with a point. The whole theatre joins in the fun. The members of the audience, the cast. The occasion is the annual banquet of the personnel department of a no company.

ANOTHER LOWELL STORE The Belmont Stores Corporation Will Open Store Here in April

The Belmont Stores corporation, centered New England very carefully has finally determined upon Lowell as the first city in that district in which it would establish one of its stores. A combination of business reasons and sentiment led to this choice. Lowell seemed to be a substantial business city. Sentiment was a factor because many of the men in the Belmont Stores corporation are New Englanders, and one of them—being former Lowell men—enthusiastic believers in Lowell. Carleton Garrett is a Lowell man, well known to the business men. King, the merchandise manager, his first retail training in Lowell, where he went to Filene's of Boston, where he was concerned with buying for four years, again hearing a word in mind in John Wannamaker's New York store. He came to the Belmont Stores corporation from there, buying organization has been carefully selected and is made up of women who know values and style. Each a specialist. Among others, there is a mature woman who knows "women's tastes," a younger woman who knows what appeals to the "misses" and another young woman who, though satisfying her own needs, knows those of the petite woman who is great difficulty in procuring clothes suitable size and style and usually forced either to wear girls' sizes or have her clothes made especially for her. Each type of woman has her representative right in New York, where styles originate and where the market offers the best opportunities for getting the most wanted things at the right time. This novel outfit that Dame Fashion presents for spring wear answers nicely as a sporting suit, an afternoon calling outfit or a shopping suit.

It is especially attractive to the young girl. Both skirt and jacket are of white percale and the trimmings are citron stripes.

GRAND WINDOW DISPLAY AT THE BON MARCHE

Window displays rivalled only by those in smart shops along Boston's Tremont row and New York's Broadway, and interior decorations, reminiscent of childhood's dreams of fairyland, announced to the passing public that the 1922 spring opening of the Bon Marche Dry Goods Co. has arrived. A peep into the windows and a tour of the store is distinctly worth while, if one wishes to view a scene of beauty such as is rarely presented in this or any other city.

The outer windows have never been more attractively or effectively decorated than now. A color scheme of cream, black and flame has been carried out to perfection, the floor and background of the windows being richly dressed in these colors, in stripes and other designs. In the heart of the windows are hanging posters of gold-brocaded silk, with uniquely designed lanterns hanging in front. In the larger windows there are, in the centre of each, modernist representations of old English doorways, with colored lamps of the old-fashioned style on either side, flanked by fantastic appearing flowers, prettily tinted in the predominant colors. Each window displays two ladies in fashionable attire, one standing and one sitting on a garden seat. Women's apparel of the better sort is draped artistically in conspicuous points in both windows.

The smaller windows are given over to attractive groupings of hats and accessories. The same color scheme, on an equally pretentious scale, is carried out in these windows also. In the department on the first floor every nook and corner is decorated with excellently designed cream and black vases and urns, filled with brightly colored gladioli. At the head of the stairs leading to the second floor is a beautiful design with a silhouette effect, and another of these is placed near the windows on the same floor. Here, as below, are flower vases and urns in profusion. In the millinery department on the ground floor, besides the garden effect are wonderfully pretty bird cages hung from the ceiling at many points.

In the millinery department there is an attractive display of hats which have come direct from the Boston fashion show. All shapes and colors in the latest modes are laid out in a fashion calculated to attract the feminine eye.

In each department are special showings of the latest spring creations. The management claims that this year's assortment surpasses anything offered in previous years, in exclusiveness, style, quality and assortment. In the suit department may be found suits of strictly 1922 model, a great variety to suit the tastes of all. Sport wear is given a prominent display. In attractive color effects and smart lines, and gorgeous wraps of various materials are shown in extraordinary variety. The children have not been forgotten, for a great abundance of spring frocks, and other garments dear to the hearts of smartly-dressed little girls form a display of their own. As stated in the company's advertisement, the graces of spring are here enthroned, and a more attractive or absorbing display may be sought in vain.

The decorative work, which is one of the most costly undertakings in the store's history, has been done by the skilled window decorator A. S. Lemieux, assisted capably by James Burey and James Cropper. All three have been planning the work since Christmas.

present time unless we were financially strait.

We believe that we are as strong financially as any company of like character in the country. Our president, Col. John R. Simpson, was merchandise manager and vice president of Filene's of Boston, and is now vice president of the Sinclair Oil company—a $200,000,000 corporation. One of our directors is William B. Warner, president of the McCall magazine. Another is the head of a chain of 48 stores of a type different from ours. Another is a partner in one of the most successful banking houses in New York. In addition there are several other interests equally prominent.

Our resources are great. We are opening three stores in April—one in Lowell; one in Pennsylvania; and a third in Illinois. When we buy for Lowell, we use the purchasing power that comes from buying for eleven other stores.

We hope Lowell will like us, and we shall do our best to merit its regard.

PAINT STAINS

Cover the old paint stains with olive oil or butter and then apply chloroform with a circular motion. This will remove the stain and not injure either wool or cotton fabric.

LENGTHENING DRESSER

One clever mother is growing dissatisfied with her daughter's frock because it is too short. The frock does not shrink and has the advantage of being evenly cut.

BANK STYLE

Girls who work for the Fidelity Trust Co., Newark, N. J., must wear navy blue, black or brown dresses with long sleeves and skirts, and high necks. That becomes effective April 1, but this girl is already dressing in that manner.

REMOVING GLOVES

One clever woman, who believes in making her clothing last as long and at the same time look as well as possible, has an excellent way of removing gloves. She pulls the wrist down over the hand, then with the inside of the wrist between her fingers loosens and slips off each of the glove fingers. Next she pulls them gently to straighten them out, then blows into them and puts them away.

SILVER POLISH

One ounce of rain water, two ounces of aqua ammonia, and two ounces of prepared chalk make an excellent silver polish. The ingredients should be mixed thoroughly just before they are to be used.

INK STAINS

If ink stains have not become too set they can be removed from white cotton fabric by soaking them in soured milk.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and everyone tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." — Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

CHERRY AND WEBB STORE IN SPRING ATTIRE

Cherry and Webb presented a most agreeable surprise to the many patrons in its 32nd spring and Easter opening which started yesterday morning and which will continue through Monday of next week. There was no intent on the part of the management for an elaborate display of decorations, no fancy frills, no concert program, but the store was inaugurated with the new ideas of spring and Easter apparel for women, misses and children at a general reduction in prices.

The display windows were tastefully arranged with the latest creations direct from the patterns of skillful decorators and connoisseurs of the latest styles. Ladies' tweed suits, spring wraps and beaded dresses were arranged as a general rule, with an abundance of different designs in evidence. The wrap floors of the store were decorated with Victorian and smiling aprons, while the lavender colored index cards all tended to blend with the general color scheme. The window was entirely about the different columns, of colonial style, which gave it a very lifelike appearance.

The first floor is given over to spring wraps and fur cloaks. Fur coats and furs are exhibited with that rare judgment for the trade coming through years of experience in business. Many other tempting articles are on sale in the various departments of this floor, but wraps and furs are the most prominently displayed.

The second floor is a riot in colors. Hundreds of tweed suits of all colors may be found in the suit department. The big city folks have taken up the tweed suit dress as never before, and having a desire to follow this style may have their every wish gratified as the assortment to choose from is large in number and varied in style and color.

In another department on this floor over 1000 dresses and evening gowns are being shown. Beaded dresses and gowns are given three places in the show cases and racks. All of this wear was bought with the idea of actual sale, and while there are one or two dresses of high price the remainder are within the reach of the Cherry and Webb clientele.

The third floor is given over to children's wear and is completely new with the rest of the establishment in regard to quality, style and variety.

Some of the articles in which attention is called include the navy blue suit, of 22 medium, color and trim; new tweed suits in light shades; new sweater sport coats with rayon sleeves; knicker suits with skirt to match; new three piece suit, dress and coat to match; dresses of tulle and chiffon crepe; new sport dresses of crepe knit; sport skirts with flared ends; fur cloaks in the popular fur of new kinds of angora, velvet, batista and dimities; new silk and mohair scarfs.

These are just a few of the articles worth while stopping in to look at. The prices are right in all cases and with the 10 per cent discount made on all goods possible. The management has announced that the 10 per cent discount does not include special lots or remaining winter lines already reduced in price.

WOMEN'S INDUSTRIAL CLUB CELEBRATES

St. Patrick's day was fittingly observed last evening by the Women's Industrial club of the Massachusetts mills in the employees' recreation hall, when an excellent entertainment, followed by general dancing, was given.

The entertainment opened with a mock trial called "Irish Jesters." John J. O'Connell, president of the club, acted as judge, and kept the audience in spasms of mirth throughout the trial. The attorneys, Thomas Crocker and George Sullivan, were excellent lawyers, who aided their clients considerably in getting into trouble. The prisoners, James Henson, John Burke and Albert McNeill, were charged with various misdemeanors; indeed, and were invariably found guilty and sentenced. The fair and impartial jury consisted of Misses Mary McGarry, Mary Regan, Anna McCabe, Mary Lowell, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Miss Mary McPartland.

At the conclusion of the mock trial an Irish minstrel show was put on. An opening chorus, including "Come back to Erin," "The Minstrel Boy" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me" was sung by the entire company. "The Hanley's original Honey Boy Four, Menard, Delgan, Conlu, McGuire and Handley, gave several selections, which were well received. Miss Rita Halloran, originally costumed as "Stand Up and Sing for Your Father," in excellent style, and received many encores. She was assisted by Miss Mary McGarry. One of the best numbers on the program, "Mother Macdoo," was splendidly rendered by Miss Anna McCabe, and in an encore Miss McCabe sang "Story O'Moore." "The Hat My Father Wore" was the song chosen by Miss Mary McGarry, and delivered in her inimitable style it scored a tremendous hit. Miss Mary Regan assisted Miss McGarry in Irish dances, and followed with a solo of her own, showing great ability as a dancer. "The Jol of Erin" was well sung by Miss Mary Lowell, the tuneful song capturing the fancy of the audience. "Little Town in the Old County Down" was done full justice by George Sullivan, who was encored repeatedly. The last song, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," considered the most beautiful Irish melody of modern times, was sung by Miss Mary McPartland, who gave it an excellent interpretation. The finale, "Freedom in Ireland," was sung by the entire company, the large chorus being led by Miss Margaret Regan and Anna Welch. Leo McHale acted as accompanist.

PREVENT THE COAL STRIKE

It seems that the threatened coal strike will come on schedule time if the government does not interpose to prevent it. Just at present the country is not in a state of mind to tolerate any increase in the price of coal which is the usual result of a controversy of this kind.

The operators for years have been granting the demands of the miners and passing the increase on to the consumers.

The miners now submit seven distinct demands upon which there will doubtless be considerable discussion.

One of these demands is for 20 per cent increase and another for shorter hours of labor.

This is no time for increasing wages and the miners should go underground. While wages in every other industry are being reduced, the miners need not expect that they will be an exception and constitute a law unto themselves.

The public can look only to the government for protection against any prolonged suspension of coal mining. The anthracite miners produce about 11,000,000 gross tons per month and if they should suspend operations even for a month they would find it very hard to catch up after resuming.

The operators refuse to arbitrate and have declared their intention to reduce wages. Secretary Davis of the department of labor has done everything possible to bring about a conference and agreement but without result. It is therefore up to the government to step in and force a settlement of the entire difficulty. If Washington permits the strike to occur with all its concomitant evils, the government, and not the miners or their employers, will be to blame and will be held responsible for the loss to business and the suffering brought to the homes of the poor.

Here is a case in which fact and positive action are demanded in order to avert a serious crisis that would still further disable the industries of the country.

Should the strike be permitted, it will be at once conceded that so far as leadership in the interest of the public welfare is concerned, the republican party is completely bankrupt.

April 1 will tell the tale.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Secretary of Labor Davis in a recent address outlined a plan for furnishing accurate and indisputed information bearing upon the issues in labor disputes and calculated to furnish data for accurate conclusions as to the status of the industry involved or the claims of labor relative to the earnings thereof.

The plan proposed by Mr. Davis contemplates the maintenance of specialists trained in each of 32 key industries throughout the nation so that they would be ready at any time to the accurate information concerning the economic and financial conditions of any given line of industry.

The plan seems to have the merit of supplying the thing most needed in order to avert strikes and lockouts which entail serious loss to both parties. Neither the industries nor the labor organizations want compulsory arbitration so that the government agencies in most cases have no power to interfere between the contending parties. The present textile strikes in New England offer a good illustration of the need of some such information as Secretary Davis says his specialists might furnish. The strike has now been running for over a month and as yet none of the textile corporations affected have come out plainly to inform their employees why a cut in wages as proposed is necessary to the successful operations of the factories. If Secretary Davis had evolved his plan in time, he could have submitted all the necessary information relative to the textile business before the strikes were declared. He might then have prevented the strikes and brought about a compromise between the operatives and the employers. As it is, only the state authorities tried to interfere and while the corporations were unwilling to arbitrate, the boards of arbitration and conciliation were helpless. It is true some hearings were held, but they served to aggravate rather than relieve the situation.

This proposed plan would serve a good purpose in other industries as well as the textile. It would offset the vast mass of propaganda that is usually sent out by some industries seeking an advantage over labor or some reform which they deem necessary for their success. For many months past the railroads, for example, have been flooding the country with propaganda relative to their financial condition and presenting an array of statistics to show that they cannot reduce the rates nor make the necessary improvements from their present revenues. All this may be true, but if the statistics were given out on government authority, their accuracy would not be questioned and they would have the desired effect.

It would, therefore, seem that Secretary Davis should get his corps of specialists into training as soon as possible so that they will have the affairs of all the key industries at their fingertips ready for any emergency. Such a plan would render very material aid in promoting industrial peace and never was such an agency more needed than at the present time. In Canada strikes are forbidden by law until the government investigates and publishes its findings in the premises. The plan of Secretary Davis might finally lead to the adoption of the Canadian law which has reduced labor troubles to a minimum.

NEW WAYS OF PROGRESS

What chances are of your old clothes after the rag-man and his second-hand customers get through with them?

Teacher taught you, in the little red schoolhouse, that old rags eventually were turned into paper.

That used to be so and still is, to some extent.

But the chances are, the clothes you threw away a few years ago are now covering the roof of a house.

Old rags, pulled into a felt and then permeated with asphalt, are covering more American houses in the form of roof coverings and prepared shingles than all other types of roofing combined.

Ancient Egyptians used a similar process. Their undertakers wrapped the dead in cloth and coated the cloth with asphaltic pitch.

Prehistoric hunters made tents and boats of papyrus, then waterproofed the seams with a coating of asphaltic bitumen.

Today we use the same principle in the roofing of asphalted rags, often with crushed rock ground into the surface.

Millions of other modern devices are merely extensions or elaborations of things used far back in the mists of history.

The steam shovel is an elaboration of the flint and cupped hand with which the ancient barbarians dug into earth. Examine a steam shovel and you'll notice its steel fingers, also that it has a flexible movement based on the principle of the human elbow.

In remote districts of China, dentists pull teeth with their fingers, strengthened by practice of pulling pegs from wood.

The American dentist uses forceps—steel fingers.

Ancient cliff-dweller killed a heavy beast. To get his carcass up the cliff to his cave, he made a hoisting rope of braided rawhide thongs. That was the ancestor of the elevator, just as his crude ladders or ropes with knots for foot-rests were the original stairways.

In all centuries, man has had much the same problems.

Each generation handles these problems in a slightly different way. There may be nothing new under the sun, but there is always a new and better way of doing everything.

Find that new and better way. That will be a contribution to progress, also wealth for you—provided you have the genius of organization and salesmanship.—N.E.A.

ROUTING THE TOURISTS

The question of having route signs to direct tourists through this city, has been discussed at various times but nothing practical has been done in the matter. Now that the beautiful auditorium is soon to be thrown open to the public and to be a structure of which the city may well feel proud, it is highly desirable that tourists passing east and west through our city should be directed through New-math street, East Merrimack and Merrimack to the boulevard. East Merrimack street will soon take on the aspect of a city of temples with its splendid auditorium, two magnificent churches, and on the opposite side of the street two fine garages, while other attractive buildings are likely soon to replace the old structures that remain. That would be a nice and impressive entrance to our city and as the tourist would pass up Merrimack street to Monument square and along St. Anne's, the new high school and city hall, he would naturally be impressed to such an extent as to conclude that Lowell is a beautiful city. Passing en route to the boulevard and noting the magnificent textile school and the beautiful scenery, he would find much to confirm his first impression.

This is a matter that can be readily handled by the chamber of commerce in conjunction with the public service board and the street department. It will require only the improvement of the streets to be passed over and the addition of a few suitable street signs. It is necessary also to put up attractive signs at the city limits, announcing the border line of the city and directing tourists along the route which it is desired they should follow. As a rule most tourists wish to see the most attractive things in every city through which they pass. In order to assist them in seeing the best we have to offer in Lowell, it is necessary only for the city authorities to give them the proper direction.

MORE WONDERS

Dr. Octavio Felix Pedrosa, a young Brazilian dentist, arrives in New York claiming he can do these four marvels:

Bring the dead back to life under certain circumstances; change a negro's black skin to white; lengthen human life; reduce the necessary sleeping period from eight hours to one.

The ambitious doctor says he can accomplish these marvels by what he calls "blood irrigation." That is, tapping blood from the body, running it through a device that treats it with serum and electricity, then pumping it back into the body.

While these things may be possible it will be time enough to believe them when they are actually performed. A great many people are disposed to talk of the wonderful things they can do but Edison, Marconi and other great inventors and we might say also the great medical men and surgeons, show what they can do in deeds, rather than in high sounding words.

ELECTION OF POPE

Hereafter the time between the death of a pope and the balloting for the election of his successor, will be fifteen days instead of ten, as formerly.

His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, has extended the time as a mark of his regret at the disappointment of Cardinal O'Connell in failing to reach Rome in time to assist in the election of the new pope. It is quite probable that fifteen days will be sufficient to enable the American cardinals to reach Rome and it will be more than enough if the airplane becomes a common vehicle of rapid transit.

The cardinals from the Orient and Australia, if any there be, could hardly reach Rome in fifteen days unless under the most favorable conditions, which, however, cannot be guaranteed. The fact that on seven different occasions American cardinals have been unable to reach Rome in time to participate in the elections of the new pope made the change necessary and now that it is made, the change will gratify Cardinal O'Connell, who was one of those most bitterly disappointed.

RADIO MARVELS

A flying airplane talked to a racing auto, by radiophone at Framingham. The connection was so good that the motorist even heard the air-pilot's teeth chatter.

This tells you something of the accuracy of the wireless wave. It is man's greatest conqueror of space and location, messages flying true to their mark despite constant and rapid shifting of position by sender and receiver.

A power like that has tremendous possibilities for practical application. It is, yet in its infancy and there is no telling how generally it may be applied for the purposes of communication and transmission of intelligence.

POOL ROOMS

Recent developments in the local district court indicate that many boys have been led astray by associating with the gangs that frequent some of the pool rooms.

Such pool rooms are undoubtedly very dangerous places for boys to visit. They are frequented by former habitués of the Lyman school, boys convicted of petty larcenies, malicious mischief, stubbornness and other offenses. So far as can be judged, while some of the places may be fairly decent, most of them are little better than schools of crime.

Even if one or two ex-service men did volunteer to act as spotters for the honor squad, that should not reflect upon the general body but rather upon the city and state that reduced them to such straitened circumstances. There seems to be a great deal of camouflage in the enforcement of the anti-liquor laws.

Possibly the enemies of the treaties now before the senate may oppose further enticement of the navy on the ground that the warships are needed to prevent smuggling along the Atlantic coast.

The game of Bom-Bom-No is the latest thing and is said to be spreading over the country. It was imported from Honolulu and is played by nine on each side, same as our national game. It is not indoor baseball as some might suppose.

What the laboring people of New England need is more work, not less, and hence the plan of shortening the hours of labor will not solve the existing difficulties.

If "normalcy" is the bottom toward which business is gravitating, it must surely soon be reached. The deflation process is still very active.

When an irresistible force meets an immovable body, what happens? They follow the law of Nature and arbitrate.

Worse than the alien oppressor is the Irishman, whatever his rank, who would stir up civil strife in Ireland.

This is a time when the logic of facts should decide, if it cannot prevent, industrial conflicts.

SEEN AND HEARD

Vermin is breaking out. This spring fever is everywhere.

Lots of theories would work if those who have them would.

Amateur gardeners use hoes; amateur golfers use clubs; the results are about the same.

Tomatoes were formerly known as "love apples," probably because they were soft and easily mashed.

While the average man realizes that his plan will fail him out sooner or later, he is willing to bet they won't.

When a man encounters a bunch game he nearly always loses faith in human nature instead of losing faith in his own judgment.

Very Serious Joke

"Take two letters from 'money' and 'one' is left," said Jack. "Is that a joke?" answered Pat. "Yes," said Jack. "Well," replied Pat, "I once knew a fellow who took 'money' from two letters and he got two years."

Very Careless Woman

"I have lost three husbands," a reader had written confidentially to an editor, "and now have the offer of a fourth. Shall I accept him?" The editor dipped his pen in the ink. This was the last straw. "If you've lost three husbands," he wrote, "I should say you were much too careless to be trusted with a fourth."

A Thought For Today

Real greatness has nothing to do with a man's sphere. It does not lie in the magnitude of his outward agency, or in the extent of the benefits he produces. The greatest man may do comparatively little abroad. Perhaps the greatest in our time at this moment are buried in obscurity. Grandeur of character lies wholly in the force of soul, that is in the force of thought, moral principle and love.—William Ellery Channing.

A Word a Day

Today's word is proposition. It's pronounced—pro-poh-zee-shun, with accent on the second syllable. It means—one who proposes, one who advocates a plan or scheme of action, a supporter, one who makes a proposition. It comes from—Latin "proponere," to place before. It's used like this—"President Harding is the proponent of a sales tax to defray the cost of the service men's bonus."

A Good Comeback

The manager of a store was examining the applicant for a position. "Are you a testator?" he asked. "Yes," was the reply. "A good salesman?" "Yes, indeed." "Can you tell a good lie?" was another question, and there were others referring to his ability to speak foreign languages, etc., all of which were satisfactorily answered. The applicant was engaged and he got on famously until a French girl approached and made known her wants. He was stumped. Five minutes later he was facing an indignant employer. "This is scandalous, sir. When I engaged you, you said you could speak French," he exclaimed. "True," replied the culprit, "but you also asked if I could tell a good lie."

Heard Through Fingers

"Hearing" a telephone message through her finger this is one of the remarkable accomplishments of Willetta Huggins, 16-year-old pupil at the state school for the blind at Jamestown, Wis. Totally blind and deaf, this child has a nervous sensitivity so highly developed that she "sees" by the sense of smell and "hears" by the sense of touch. Recently she has founded a group of physiatrists and psychologists at Madison, Wis., when she accurately repeated a telephone message received by placing the tips of her fingers on the diaphragm of the receiver. No special apparatus was used. The instrument being an ordinary telephone desk set. Miss Huggins can also carry on a conversation through the vibrations of a wooden pole placed upon the head of a person with whom she is speaking. When the girl is brought into a room where there are a number of persons, she picks out those she knows by the sense of touch. She can also distinguish the colors of cloth in the same way, according to a statement of the Wisconsin state health board.

Ignorance

When the strain of intellectual labor is telling on comfort and nerves, I turn to myself for the quickest relief. That my vanity well deserves. When I think it is time that the high-lit head should be decently bowed and low, I think of the books I have never read and the things I shall never know. I never have finished the Fairy Queen. Nor started The Ring and the Book; and Tolstoy's the author of War and Peace.

Whose life I have had no look. To all of the charm of Sir Walter Scott. And Cancer, I'm quite immune; Of the great Racine, I have never a jot. And I never read "Lorna Doone."

In youth, I considered old Fielding fine. And Sterne I am fond of still—But of Samuel Richardson, not one line. Have I read, and I never will. I would be a sage in my comrades' eyes.

So whenever I hear them quote From Epictetus, I look right wise—But what was the book he wrote?—TED ROBINSON, in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Fires of worn-out cross ties in process of being burned by repair gangs are familiar sights along railroads. Every now and then someone writes a letter to a manager of the road, or more often to a newspaper, protesting against what he believes is a needless waste, and raising the question why railroad companies do not allow people to take the old ties for fuel, or find some other use for them. In the first place, it is not true that all the old ties are burned. A considerable number constantly are being sold to persons living near the right-of-way. That is about as far as railroad companies have been able to go, thus far, in finding an outlet for worn-out ties. Such a method of disposal is practicable only in those cases where the ties can be delivered at a public crossing or at another point where they can be obtained safely. No railroad company can sanction the public going promiscuously over tracks to gather up old ties. To do so would be practically letting down the bars against trespassing on the tracks, an evil against which railroads have struggled for years and which has been the cause of half of all the fatal accidents on roads throughout the country. Efforts have been made from time to time to interest dealers in firewood in buying the old ties, but not thus far with much success. The causes appear to be that the ties are often dirty, that they contain more or less stone, grit and slag wedged in the cracks, which might injure saws used in cutting them; that in many cases they are partly decayed; that they are dried out and that they burn too quickly. Efforts also have been made to dispose of old ties in a number of other ways, including sale for wood pulp purposes, for the extraction of chemicals, for burning and sale of the ashes for fertilizer and for manufacturing into charcoal, but without success in interesting parties engaged in these occupations.

A few days ago I saw two dogs, both unmuzzled, attack a dog, which was muzzled, and give it a fierce chewing. The muzzled animal was practically helpless. It had too much guts to run from its attackers, yet it was forced to take a drubbing principally because the law cutting for all dogs to be muzzled has not been enforced. One may find many unmuzzled

De Nova, Colorado.

I have just come here from Vancouver, B. C. and I have been taking your wonderful fruit medicine, "Fruit-a-tives" for two years. No other medicine answers my requirements like yours.

Nine years ago, I was in an accident and the lower portion of my bowels were paralyzed; therefore, I need a medicine that does not lose its effect, and I have been absolutely satisfied with "Fruit-a-tives" since I began taking them.

MRS. C. C. REMINGTON.

Now, you might think that any medicine which is strong enough to move the bowels when they are paralyzed, would be too powerful to be used by a person suffering with ordinary Constipation. Yet "Fruit-a-tives" is regularly taken by children, young boys and girls, men and women of all ages, without pain, griping or other ill-effects. Because "Fruit-a-tives" is a genuine fruit medicine, made from the juices of fruit, and gains its peculiar power to cure Constipation because of this fact.

BOARD WILL HOLD

HEARINGS MARCH 30

The first hearing of petitions for sidewalks and sewer extensions will be held by the board of public service on the evening of March 30 at eight o'clock. Foremen of all departments coming under the board will be called into conference relative to the work planned for the summer months.

WAGE AGREEMENT

EXPIRES MAY 1

Within a short time local employees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Ry. Co. will begin work on a new wage agreement to be presented to the board of public trustees. The present agreement expires on May 1, after having been in operation for one year and it is expected that any new agreement entered into will cover a similar length of time. Operators of one-man cars now receive 50¢ cents per hour and two-man car operators, 54¢ cents.

ACTION OF CONTRACT

The case of Emily Seavey vs. Letitia G. Gifford, an action of contract by which the plaintiff seeks to recover for household work alleged to have been performed by her for the defendant, was started before William A. Hogan, acting as auditor, at the court house yesterday. When the judgment was taken the case was unfinished and it was announced it will be resumed next Friday.

Dogs running all over Centerville and I suppose the condition is about the same in other parts of the city. When notices are issued regarding the muzzling of dogs they should be enforced like toward all.

Bouncing and hooking rides by youngsters on auto trucks should be discouraged and discouraged in a forceful manner if necessary. Of late I have noticed a number of boys jumping on the rear ends of trucks, only to ride a block or two and then jump off. There is great danger to life in this practice. Few youths ever stop to think of looking behind them to see if another machine is following. The last month I have seen several close calls in this connection. At the corner of Dutton and Merrimack street I saw a boy dragged 20 feet by a chain in which one of his feet had become entangled as he hopped off the rear of a truck. The machine was making so much noise that the driver was unable to hear the lad's cries. Luckily the boy managed to slip his foot from the chain loop. This practice of bouncing rides is not fair to auto drivers who are making an attempt to avoid accidents and who are driving carefully. It is an unpleasant feeling to have a boy drop in the road in front of a person driving a machine. Steps should be taken to stamp out this growing evil.

The Window of Unknowns

By Hal Cochran

What is the mystery of the throne? Who form parade and, all day long, make calls at window number three? And ask, "Have you some mail for me?" They linger at the stand where they write postal cards to send away.

Often the letters that they get will cause the showing of regret Or maybe bring a smile in place— Just watch the movements of the face. And you can very plainly tell If things back home are going well.

Their names? It seems nobody knows About this line that comes and goes Except the man behind the rail. Who does or doesn't give the mail. He has to know their names—if not, how could he know which one gets what?

But even he, you'll always find, Never keeps the names within his mind. Of those who get (the all-alones) Mail from the window of unknowns.

STANDARDIZE

CLERKS' SALARIES

There is some agitation for a city ordinance standardizing salaries of clerks in municipal departments. Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy sponsored a similar order in 1920. The ordinance would set minimum and maximum salary limits, probably based on length of service and the type of work for which a clerk is employed.

MERRIMACK VALLEY LODGE

The regular meeting of Merrimack Valley Lodge, I.O.O.F., N.E.U., was held last evening in Odd Fellows hall, Mid-dlex street. A resolution by which the lodge refused to participate in competitive staff drills in the future was adopted. Routine business transacted and it was announced a summoned meeting will be held, month, the date to be announced. At the close of the business a social hour was held during which entertainment numbers were given.

OUTLOOK FAVORS RATIFICATION OF THE FOUR POWER PACT

Bonus Bill May Pass House and Be Put in Cold Storage in Senate—Wireless Campaigning. Possibility of Near Future—Maiden Name Amendment Discussed—French Learn Gum-Chewing Habit

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—At this moment the prospect for ratification of the four power treaty is bright. The decision to vote next week is regarded as an indication that the violent opposition that developed a few weeks ago has died down and that the senate will ratify the work of the conference by the necessary two-thirds vote. Just what the line-up will be is a matter of uncertainty for the bill has been kept as secret as possible both by advocates and opponents of the treaty in order not to point out weak spots on either side, and so subject men whose vote was in the balance from being unduly urged to turn it in one or the other direction.

The prospect of getting a Budget bill through congress that will be acceptable to the president grows dim, as the prospect for the treaty brightens. The two have no connection, but owing to circumstances of routine, have kept pace one with the other, for the past month, each having ups and downs of startling magnitude. Although word from the house is to the effect that the president has not indicated he will veto any bonus not carrying a sales tax as the means to raise the billions required, yet public opinion here is strong that Mr. Harding will not approve any other method. No official statement has been issued from the White House, but the treaty understanding seems to be that it is a sales tax, or no bonus, and in the minds of many officials, that indicates no bonus, and in the minds of many officials, for apparently the house is dead against raising money by the sales tax.

Bonus Bill Will Fall
The house will pass the bonus bill and the senate send it into cold storage. At least that is the present outlook. The house ways and means committee have ignored the advice of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the controller of the currency, the governor of the Federal Reserve board, and the veiled intimation of the president that the bill they propose neither ought to pass nor would be approved. It does not often happen that all the officials connected with the financial affairs of the government agree on a policy, but their anti-bonus sentiment is solid, owing to the tremendous war debt already existing. All the same it looks very much as if the house proposed to pass along the responsibility of defeating such a measure, and in spite of the adverse advice and the acquire the habit. And now America's chewing gum establishments have established agencies in Paris and one of the features of their advertising campaign is free gum, which all Paris has begun to chew, according to the official reports of the department of commerce.

The proposed constitutional amendment permitting married women to retain their maiden name and maintain separate domiciles, keeps cropping up notwithstanding the fact that the amendment is not yet before congress. The question, as argued, has brought out any number of amusing incidents but none more so than one advanced at a recent meeting of the Lucy Stone league, in which both men and women took part.

Maiden Name Amendment
A debate followed the dinner. "Miss Ruth Hale" was introduced as principal speaker and a few minutes afterwards, "Mr. Howard Brown, husband of Miss Ruth Hale" was presented. Mrs. Brown was addressed as "Miss Toastmaster." At this there was a contentions (titter from that part of the audience out of sympathy with the "cause") and loud applause from the other side. The arguments covered a wide range, jumping from "the acknowledged superiority of man" on the one side to the claim that a fire-side companion sort of woman was the only kind worth having. Each side jeered the other, and sarcastic queries of "Is that so?" followed the counter assertions. The climax was reached when a man rose and said he was for the amendment. "Married women should call under their own flag and bear their own name," said he, "then when they do things they shouldn't, the busy bodies won't drag the names of their husbands into the rows." That ended the debate, but the presiding officer reserved his decision.

Y.M.C.A. MEETING
Thomas Clark Henderson, of Cleveland, Ohio, the evangelist conducting services at the First Evangelical church, will be the speaker at the Y.M.C.A. Sunday afternoon at 3.30. His subject will be "The Underworld." This men of Lowell are invited.

H. V. PERRAULT
Despite the fact that it is claimed there is no work in the building line in Lowell, H. V. Perrault, the Market street contractor, states he has more on his payroll at this time than he has had for a long time. He explains this by saying that he gives a square deal to all and that his work

The Very Latest Invention is the Ghost-Hunting Machine

"Psychic Howler" to Trap Ghosts—Ghostly Sounds Can Be Recorded and Preserved on Phonograph Records By the Use of an Amplifier—Camera May Catch the Phantom Form

GHOST MACHINE AND PSYCHIC INVESTIGATORS

By HERVEAU GARRINGTON, Ph. D.
Director American Psychic Institute and Laboratory; Author of "True Ghost Stories," "The Problems of Psychical Research," "The Physical Phenomena of Spiritualism," "Psychical Phenomena and the War," Etc.

NEW YORK, March 18.—A ghost-hunting machine has been invented. The ghost detector, the only scientific mechanism of its kind in the world, is the "ultraviolet" or "psychic howler."

This machine, being perfected at the American Psychic Institute and Laboratory, will solve such problems as the ghost mysteries in Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and Alva, Okla.

Hunted houses will give up their secrets only by the scientific use of the ultraviolet, cameras, phonograph records and sound amplifiers.

Do ghosts exist? Yes, certain types. Though 70 per cent of reported cases have been shown to be frauds. And the 30 per cent of apparently genuine cases remain unexplained.

Science is quite sure that ghosts are hallucinations. But I myself have seen genuine ones more than once—not forms, but hands, arms and heads. Have ghosts mind and body? We do not know about the mind, but science says a genuine ghost has a body, an intangible thing lighter than air. I would measure these phantom things—photograph them—record the sounds they make.

The ultraviolet is an intensely sensitive coil of 3000 finely turned copper wires which may be set up in a room believed to be haunted, and connected by wires with a receiving apparatus in another room, where the observer listens through telephone receivers.

Reveals Any Presence
The ultraviolet reveals the presence of any entity, living or disembodied—human being or ghost—that comes within six feet of the coil.

Does a ghost breathe? Does it have a heart that beats? Nobody knows. But just as the delicately adjusted ultraviolet records the electric energy radiated by a living person's heart and lungs, it would by a variation in the electric current passing through the coil record any form of energy possessed by a spirit or astral body.

If it—ghost or human being—approaches closer to the coil there is a rattling noise in the coil heard in the receivers, which increases in pitch as the body comes nearer.

(Ghostly sounds thus can be recorded, and preserved on phonograph records, by the use of an amplifier. And the camera may catch whatever emanation or materialized substance exists before the phantom form dissolves.)

Camera of Fire
What the "psychic howler" would detect in such cases as the 38 mysterious fires in the MacDonald house at Antigonish and the seven fires that burst out in one night in Mrs. Ona Smith's house in Alva, Okla., is a matter of conjecture.

From a common sense point of view it is absurd that fires should break out in such ghostly fashion—but curious things do happen.
